GEN. WALLACE M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps commandant, holds an M16 rifle at a Pentagon news conference Friday where he defended the controversial weapon. He said the M16 "has proved to be a reliable, hard hitting, light weight weapon for our troops" now using them in Vietnam. Commandant Terms Walt 'Right Hand' Marines Fighting Fierce DMZ Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The commandant of the Marine Corps Friday called Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt "my right hand" and rejected reports that Walt is returning from Vietnam under a cloud.

Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr. heatedly told a news conference:

"Any implication that Gen. Walt has done less than an outstanding job in Vietnam is an injustice to a fine officer."

Greene brought up the question at a news conference which was called to discuss the controversial M16 rifle.

He said the reports reflecting on Walt had "bothered me considerably." He declared they were in error.

The reports appeared after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced at a news conference a week ago that Walt, commander of 75,000 Marine in Vietnam, was returning to the United States about June 1 after completing two years in Vietnam.

Walt is being given a job as head of personnel for the Marine Corps.

Some observers had considered this a comedown and an indication that he was being put on the shelf.

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. Marines slugged it out with Communist troops in the demilitarized zone and south of Da Nang Saturday morning in fierce ground engagements. Marines were reported to have men on top of Hill 117, a bunker-lined fortress just inside the demilitarized zone near Con Thien, after a two-day battle.

A battalion of Leathernecks fought before dawn Saturday with about 1,000 Communist soldiers 30 miles south of Da Nang. Most of the Friday-Saturday fighting was in the central highlands and the buffer zone between North and South Vietnam — areas considered by the Americans as the two main danger points in the war.

Carrier-based Navy pilots bombed the Kep airfield, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi, for the second time this week. Pilots from the carrier Hancock, reported secondary explosions in revetments where three MIGs were parked.

Air Force bombers pounded the Hoa Lac airfield 20 miles west of Hanoi Friday. The airfield, hit repeatedly by U.S. planes in recent weeks, was left in smoke after pilots hit what they think was an ammunition storage area.

Other Air Force planes bombed the Kep airfield, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi, for the second time this week. Pilots from the carrier Hancock, reported secondary explosions in revetments where three MIGs were parked.

Garrison Under Fire Of Attorney

DETROIT (AP)—An attorney for the late Jack Ruby asked the American and Louisiana bar associations Friday to consider disbarring New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison for "unwarranted and reckless attacks on the Warren Commission Report and its members."

Sol Dann of Detroit sent letters to the bar groups urging them to intervene in all proceedings concerning the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, especially those Garrison is conducting.

As a result of Garrison's probe, New Orleans businessman Clay Shaw has been indicted with conspiracy to commit the murder of Kennedy. Shaw is free on $10,000 bond.

In New Orleans, Garrison told newsmen that Dann is "well aware of the total involvement of Jack Ruby with regard to the assassination."

"He is doing his best to block any successful inquiry," Garrison said. "This is very understandable because my objective inquiry into the murder of President Kennedy will necessarily reveal the involvement, not only of individuals associated with the Central Intelligence Agency, but of Jack Ruby himself."

Ruby's brother, Earl Ruby of Detroit, has vigorously challenged Garrison's claims that Jack Ruby was linked to any plot to kill Kennedy.

Dann represented Ruby when he was convicted of killing accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas, Tex.

"This request is made to put an end to any further exploitation of this horrible tragedy and prevent a repetition of the carnival proceedings that prevailed before Judge (Joe B.) Brown in Dallas," Dann said.

His three-paragraph letter asked the bar groups not to limit their probe to Garrison, but to include investigation of any attorney involved in any proceeding related to the assassination.

Dann told newsmen this would include judges ruling on court matters stemming from the assassination and any attorneys who have authored books about it.

"This fraud has gone on long enough," Dann told newsmen. "It would very much appear Mr. Garrison has improperly discharged his responsibilities."

"His actions appear irresponsible and not in keeping with his role as prosecutor, which is to protect the innocent as well as convict the guilty," Dann said.

He said he based his claim on the fact that Garrison has charged Warren Commission findings without "coming forward with any new evidence or new information."

Two U.S. Marine helicopters were downed Friday — one of them in the DMZ — by Communist ground fire. All crewmen and passengers were picked up by other helicopters.

Clear To Partly Cloudy Predicted

The Northeast Louisiana forecast calls for clear to partly cloudy skies through Sunday. No important temperature changes are predicted, with lows tonight between 60 and 66 and highs today between 84 and 90.

The Louisiana Delta agricultural forecast predicts drying conditions good through Sunday except fair to locally poor late nights and early mornings. Dew-points in the 60's are expected with over 70 per cent sunshine today and around 50 per cent Sunday. Little or no rainfall is expected through Sunday. Winds will be variable 5 to 15 m.p.h.

The high temperature in Monroe Friday, according to FAA station at Solman Field, was 86 around 5 p.m. The low was 62 around 5 a.m.

Egypt Increases War Cry As Soviet Effort Indicates Desire To Lessen Tension

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt declared Friday if war comes, his country is poised for "total war" to destroy Israel. The Soviet Union meanwhile called on the United States and other Western powers to restrain Israel from a thrust against the Arabs.

The day's developments in the Middle East crisis saw Nasser reaffirm his tough stand in a speech broadcast by Cairo Radio and a Soviet statement that indicated the Soviet government might be interested in an effort to relax tensions.

As for Nasser's announced blockade of the Tiran Strait, a West German freighter captain said he had sailed through the strait into the Gulf of Aqaba Friday and saw no sign of any Egyptian blockade.

Nasser said that "we knew that by closing the Gulf of Aqaba it might mean war with Israel." But he added: "We will not back down on our rights in the gulf."

Three Arab nations—Egypt, Jordan and Saudi Arabia—and Israel have outlets on that enclosed waterway.

Nasser said that if war broke out, "it will be total war and the objective will be to destroy Israel."

The Soviet Union, which has offered support to Egypt, again blamed Israel for the trouble in the Middle East but took no open stand on Egypt's announced blockade of Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

A Soviet spokesman called a rare news conference and said France's proposal for a Big Four peace effort "is being considered" in the Kremlin. The effort would bring together the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

Soviet views on the Middle East came after an Egyptian newspaper with close ties to Nasser had contended that Egypt had achieved its objectives against the Israelis and that war would come only if Israel starts it.

Nasser then made his radio broadcast to say Egypt would not back down.

Israel has said it would fight to keep the gulf open. Israel's Foreign Minister Abba Eban was in Washington to seek U.S. backing against Egypt's avowed blockade of the narrow strait that controls the gulf.

AP correspondent Hams Neuberger reported from the Jordanian port of Aqaba that Capt. Johannes Buse of the freighter Stolzenfels said he had gone through the strait Friday and seen no indications of minefields or Egyptian naval units.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Some 1,700 copies of the Tampa University yearbook were handed out Thursday and students, angered at seeing the editor's picture 21 times, built a bonfire and began tossing them in.

"It's a collector's item today," said Dr. Charles West, chairman of student publications.

The editor missed the demonstration, staged in connection with a protest of the suspension of two football players and the onset of final examinations.

Carmen Gonzalez, 20, a classic Spanish beauty with shining black hair that reaches her waist, happens to be the editor. She is also the yearbook queen, an "A" student and member of 10 campus organizations.

Miss Gonzalez was so upset she had to be hospitalized, her mother said.

Miss Gonzalez gave herself a six-page spread as yearbook queen, appearing in ten of 13 photographs covering the contest. The other pictures, she says, were there because she was a member of one thing or another.

"I gave the same play to the homecoming queen. But most of the time the editor hasn't been everything else, too. Now I'm afraid to go in for final exams," she said.

Underclassmen were especially put out. After shelling out $9 for the book "Moroccan" they found their pictures weren't in it at all. A fire had destroyed the pictures in an out-of-state plant where they were being made.

Caldwell To Be GOP Candidate

Ralph Caldwell, an executive at Olinkraft, Inc., until his retirement last year, announced Friday he will be a Republican candidate for state representative from Ouachita Parish in the general election to be held in February, 1968.

Caldwell, a member of the Democratic Party for some 40 years, recently changed political affiliation to the Republican Party because of "my firm opposition to the Democratic administration in Washington which is encroaching on many aspects of our social and economic lives and on the basic rights of our state and local government."

Caldwell seeks one of three parish seats in the State House of Representatives. The third parish seat was added under the recent reapportionment action by the Legislature.

If Caldwell goes unopposed as a Republican — and none is anticipated — no local GOP primary will be held. Unlike party primaries, in the February 6 General Election, Ouachita Parish voters, regardless of party registration, can vote for the candidate of their choice.

A native of Athens in Claiborne Parish, Caldwell is a graduate of Texas Christian University and studied law at Centenary College in Shreveport. President Confers With Israel Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban conferred Friday night about the explosive state of the Middle East but there was no immediate indication whether they had reached any decisions on policies or possible courses of action to head off an Israeli-Arab war.

They met for an hour and 25 minutes. The White House merely announced Eban's arrival and departure. It said there would be no further statements Friday night.

Eban drove up to a side entrance of the White House offices in a diplomatic car. Johnson apparently hustled down the stairs to meet him and then escorted him to the White House living quarters.

The two men did their talking in the yellow Oval Room in the White House living quarters, a place where the President often receives credentials of new ambassadors to the United States.

"The situation remains very tense but we are hopeful that good sense will prevail," secretary of state Dean Rusk said shortly before Eban's White House call.

Eban left Washington at 10 p.m. for Israel "to report to my prime minister." He told newsmen at the airport he had "extensive discussions" with Rusk and U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara before meeting with Johnson.

He declined further comment. Asked if he were optimistic, following his talks here, Eban replied tersely, "I am realistic."

In his hurried visit to Washington, the Israeli leader has met also with secretary of defense Robert S. McNamara.

Johnson made plain earlier this week that the United States opposes Egypt's threatened blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, the narrow waterway linking Israel with the Red Sea. Egypt says it will not let pass through the Gulf any Israeli ships or vessels carrying war goods to Israel.

U.S. strategy is to look first for a diplomatic solution, trying to avoid an outbreak of fighting. Washington thus awaited with high interest U.S. Secretary General U. Thant's report on his peacemaking effort in Cairo. His report is expected this morning.

Rusk spoke to newsmen at National Airport briefly before taking off for a speaking engagement in Des Moines.

"We are at the present time expecting the report of the Secretary-General to the Security Council, in which we have much interest," Rusk said.

"Meanwhile we have been urging caution and moderation

The nation's city-dwellers Friday started their first big exodus of the season and thousands of country residents headed for Memorial Day weekend holidays in metropolitan centers.

The National Safety Council said up to 750 of the holiday-minded motorists might not live to return to their jobs next Wednesday.

Around the nation, state and city traffic control officials geared to cope with a flood of motorists on streets and highways.

Gov. Claude Kirk personally led the safe-driving campaign in Florida, where motorists were urged to keep car lights on during daylight and the highway patrol was ordered to stop drivers who did not comply.

Kirk kicked off the campaign by walking out of the capital in Tallahassee and flagging down a motorist who had not turned on his lights.

The governor planned to spend part of the weekend on the road with highway patrol cars and to fly to the scene of any unusually bad accident.

Indiana's traffic safety director, Floyd A. Kline Sr., urged drivers to avoid getting so excited while listening to the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway race that they thoughtlessly step on the gas a little harder.

In Maine, liquor inspectors went on duty to aid other law enforcement agencies in seeing that state liquor laws are observed.

Several states mobilized National Guard or Civil Defense units to help police patrols handle the holiday traffic. Wisconsin Gov. Warren Knowles declared a statewide "emergency" as he summoned the Guard.

The State Department also kept open the possibility of a U.S.-Soviet-British-French joint undertaking, as proposed by French President Charles de Gaulle, or some other diplomatic accommodation.

Meanwhile physical attempts to force the issue were apparently being held in abeyance. Two American ships which reportedly had been headed for the Aqaba Gulf were said to have been diverted elsewhere by their owners.

However, the State Department press officer, Robert J. McCloskey, said he knew of no U.S. government orders to U.S. flag craft to avoid the disputed waterway. Nor were ships of other non-communist or non-Arab states apparently testing the passage at this time.

Urbanites Leave City For Holiday

By United Press International

The nation's city-dwellers Friday started their first big exodus of the season and thousands of country residents headed for Memorial Day weekend holidays in metropolitan centers.

The National Safety Council said up to 750 of the holiday-minded motorists might not live to return to their jobs next Wednesday.

Around the nation, state and city traffic control officials geared to cope with a flood of motorists on streets and highways.

Gov. Claude Kirk personally led the safe-driving campaign in Florida, where motorists were urged to keep car lights on during daylight and the highway patrol was ordered to stop drivers who did not comply.

Kirk kicked off the campaign by walking out of the capitol in Tallahassee and flagging down a motorist who had not turned on his lights.

The governor planned to spend part of the weekend on the road with highway patrol cars and to fly to the scene of any unusually bad accident.

Indiana's traffic safety director, Floyd A. Kline Sr., urged drivers to avoid getting so excited while listening to the 500-mile Indianapolis speedway race that they thoughtlessly step on the gas a little harder.

In Maine, liquor inspectors went on duty to aid other law enforcement agencies in seeing that state liquor laws are observed.

Several states mobilized National Guard or Civil Defense units to help police patrols handle the holiday traffic. Wisconsin Gov. Warren Knowles declared a statewide "emergency" as he summoned the Guard.

Nor'easter Hits Boston With Tides

BOSTON (AP) — The wreck age of more than 100 pleasure boats lined the battered Massachusetts coast Friday as a devastating nor'easter — one of the most violent May storms in recent memory — churned up the Atlantic coast after two days of hurricane winds, wild seas, heavy rain and unseasonable snow.

The intense storm destroyed about 100 of some 600 boats in Marblehead Harbor. Dozens were smashed ashore at Scituate and about a dozen were hurled around at Hingham's sheltered harbor.

No one was injured, but flood tides and pounding surf forced the evacuation of some 25 families from flooded homes during the height of the storm in Quincy and about 50 persons in Scituate where heavy seas tore foundations from homes.

A 2 1/2-mile stretch of beach at historic Plymouth, where the Pilgrims landed, was washed away. Only barren rock remained where 12-foot sand dunes had protected Plymouth Harbor for over a century.

A stone breakwater at Plymouth also was shattered. Beach erosion was heavy at Scituate and Hingham, the latter also suffered flooding up to three feet in depth.

Wind gusts up to 100 miles per hour were reported by the Coast Guard at Block Island. R.I. Three barges and a collierdam were blown away at the Newport, R.I., bridge construction site on Narragansett Bay. One of the barges knocked down a 150-foot temporary bridge.

The powerful winds, drove rain described by the U.S. Weather Bureau as "deluge proportions." Nantucket Island, closest to the storm center, was drenched with more than 7 inches in a 24-hour period.

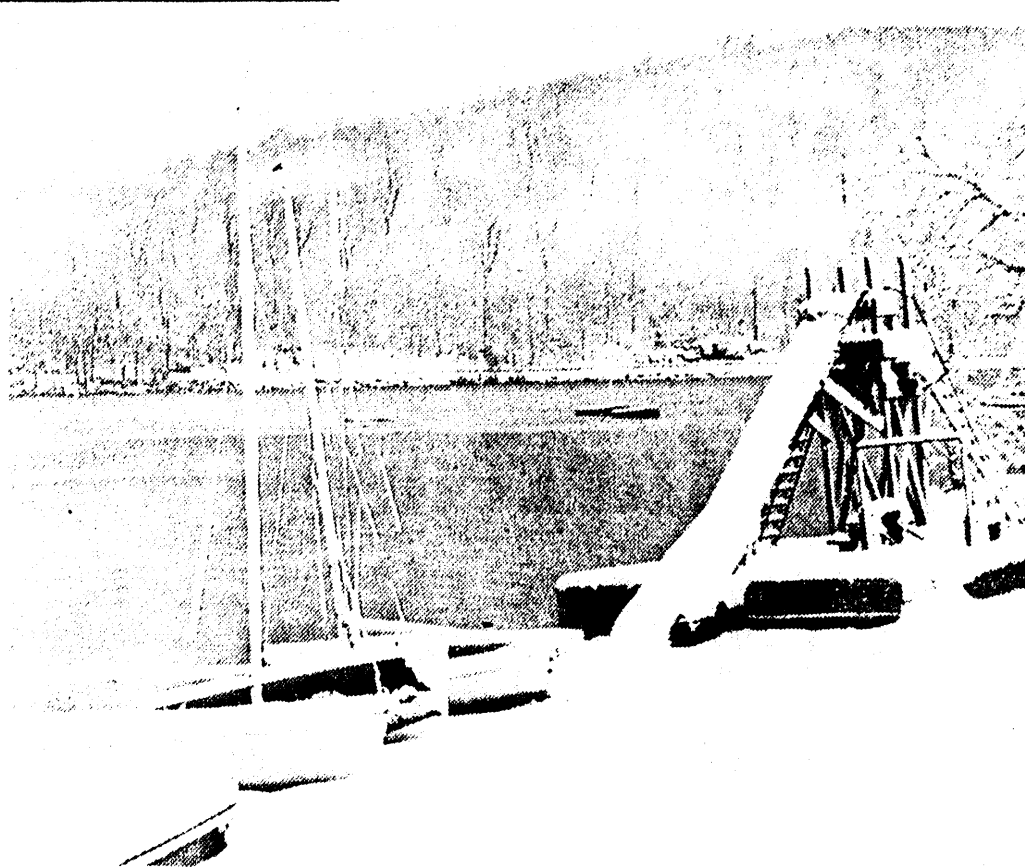

Boston and Providence, R.I., each recorded about four inches. High tide at Boston, 14 feet above mean low water, was the sixth highest in 245 years, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Although the full fury of the storm subsided during Friday, the Weather Bureau warned residents of coastal Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island of high flooding in small streams and brooks last night and this morning.

Unofficial estimates of damage to the pleasure boats ran to $1 million.

The nor'easter also brought unseasonable rain, cold and heavy snow.

New Hampshire and Vermont measured snowfall up to 8 inches. The Killington Ski Area

SAILBOATS ON THE shore of Dublin Lake in Dublin, N.H., and a raft not yet launched for the season, are blanketed by six inches of new snow. U.S. Acknowledges Flying Over China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced a U.S. Navy plane may have crossed inadvertently over into Red China Friday before returning from a mission against military targets in the vicinity of Kep in North Vietnam today may have inadvertently crossed the Chinese Communist-North Vietnamese border before returning safely to its carrier.

The speed of the announcement apparently was designed to defuse any new Chinese Communist claims of territorial violations.

The Defense Department statement reporting the incident was brief.

It said "A U.S. Navy aircraft in Vietnam reported more than a foot of snow on its slopes and offered free skiing for weekend visitors.

The heavy snowfall on Mt. Washington in New Hampshire created the danger of avalanche and rangers closed most of the mile-high ski area.

Rangers of the White Mountain National Forest said more than 18 inches of snow had fallen and was still "coming down like mid-winter."

At the height of the storm, the Boston Edison Co. called it a "hurricane experience" with all 40 cities and towns in its area hit by power failures.

The snow during the first day of the storm caused the collapse of netting used to shade tobacco from the sun and further delayed planting of the crop.

A University of Massachusetts tobacco expert said the damage could reach $5 $10 million.

Permits For Construction Announced

Building permits for a total of $57,650 were issued in the Monroe Building Coordinator's office from May 22-26.

Permits for new home construction totaled $44,500. Permits for addition and alteration totaled $13,150. There were no permits for business construction.

New home construction permits were issued to Earl Ross to erect a one story frame building at 1614 State St.; Usrey Lumber and Supply Company Inc. to erect a one story brick veneer building at 2007 Marquette St.; I.B. January to erect a one story brick veneer building at 3816 Cooper St.

By BILL NEIKIRK Associated Press Writer BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Officials from Oklahoma and Kansas advertised their proposed interconnecting toll road to Louisiana Friday in hopes that the highway would eventually stretch from Kansas City to New Orleans.

Louisiana highway officials, however, said it is too early to tell whether a proposed north-south toll road through the state will connect with one from Kansas City via eastern Oklahoma or one from St. Louis via western Arkansas.

"We're pleased to cooperate with all states in this area, including Arkansas," said Roy Sessums, chairman of the Louisiana Expressway Authority. He held the door open for possible tie-ins with both routes.

"You stand to benefit no matter what happens," said Charles K. Devall of Kilgore, Texas, who said he was representing his state in an unofficial capacity.

The competition between the states for a toll road from the Midwest to the coast became apparent at the meeting in Gov. John McKeithen's office. McKeithen was unable to attend.

Sessums said two main routes that were too close together would hurt the traffic count on both. He said Arkansas is interested in a north-south route through the western part of the state that would connect with a Louisiana toll road in Shreveport.

Law Study Workshop To Be Held

A workshop in the study of laws and legal principles affecting the ownership and management of real property will be offered during the first term of the summer session, June 1, July 1, at Northeast Louisiana State College.

Dr. Eugene H. Fox, head of the Department of Economics and Finance, said the course will be of particular interest to building contractors, tax assessors, lawyers, insurance executives, savings and loan association executives and bankers.

The course will meet from 6 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. each Monday and Wednesday. Participants may earn three hours of either undergraduate or graduate credit in Finance 411, Real Estate Law.

The instructor for the course will be James E. Lewis, assistant professor of management at Northeast, who is also a lawyer.

Fox said particular emphasis in the workshop will be placed on Louisiana laws affecting real property, with special attention to transfers, deeds, leases, title insurance, escrows, land contracts, foreclosures, zoning, recordings and the acquisition and creation of property rights.

U. S. Ready To Negotiate, Rusk Claims

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Friday night the United States is ready to negotiate "literally without conditions" to end the Vietnam war.

If that is not possible, he said, the United States is prepared to talk about conditions for a peace, "including the cessation of bombing of North Vietnam."

Rusk made the statements in a speech before the Iowa State Bar Association's annual meeting.

"If someone will somewhere, some time, in some capital of the world, bring North Vietnam to the conference table we will be there to talk about peace," he said.

Rusk said that when U.N. Secretary-General U Thant suggested that the United States cease bombing North Vietnam and that there be a mutual de-escalation of the war, "we said we would accept Point 1 and talk about Point 2 with no strings attached."

"The other side accepted Point 1 of course, but rejected categorically the mutual de-escalation of the war."

"There needs to be more understanding," Rusk said, on the point of the so-called "escalation" of the Vietnam war by the United States.

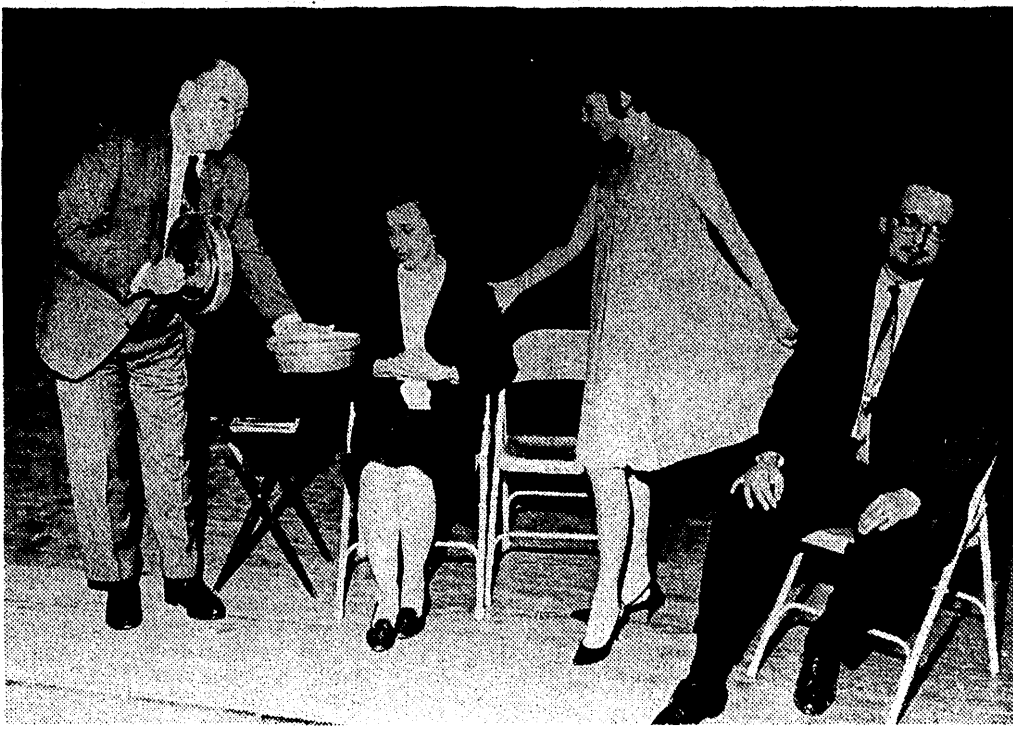

He said North Vietnam has been mining the harbor of Saigon, capital of South Vietnam, but "if we took their own ropes of mines out of the Saigon harbor and placed them in the harbor of Haiphong, that would be escalation according to our criteria."

Caldwell Outlines Candidacy Reasons

The following statement was issued by Ralph Caldwell of Monroe in connection with the announcement that he would be a Republican candidate for state representative from Ouachita Parish in the general election to be held in February, 1968:

"My decision to enter this race as a Republican is based upon two factors. One is my firm opposition to the Democratic administration in Washington which is encroaching on many aspects of our social and economic lives and on the basic rights of our state and local government. Specific examples are too numerous to mention.

"The other is my belief in the need for a competitive two-party system in Louisiana to provide a check on our state government by offering the voters of both parties a choice of candidates from an opposition party. As of now, our government in Louisiana is almost a one-party system. In a general election following the Democratic primaries a voter has no alternative choice to the Democratic candidates who have been nominated. He must vote for them because there are no opposition candidates. There have been countless times when voters would be required to vote for Democratic candidates in general elections who would not have been their choice had there been opposition candidates.

"There are now four Republicans who are members of the House of Representatives in Louisiana, two from Caddo Parish, one from Lafayette Parish, and one from East Baton Rouge Parish, who was recently elected in a special election. This is indicative of a trend which reveals an awareness of this fact in other sections of the state. Although Louisiana is heavily Democratic it is not unusual for members of that party to vote for Republicans in general elections, if they are on the ballot.

"One of the best examples was in the last presidential election. We recall that Senator Barry Goldwater was given a heavy majority in Louisiana over President Johnson. If our national government had had a one-party system, as in Louisiana, the only choice would have been Lyndon B. Johnson.

"There are some who dispute the need for a strong second party in the South, contending that many of its outstanding and distinguished Democratic members of the Congress are strongly conservative. It is true that there are many fine conservative Southern Democrats in Congress but they exert relatively little influence on key national issues and, in the great majority of instances, unless they had combined their opposition with Republicans they would have very little, if any, influence.

"Some Southern congressmen hold important committee posts and are thereby in a position to add weight to their office but they hold those posts by reason of seniority and their number is growing smaller. Other people contend that the best hope of the South is in a third party, led by a strong advocate of the principles which formed the basis of the Democratic Party of many years ago.

There have been a number of instances in which third parties were formed in the South under the guidance of distinguished leaders but they were short-lived and even the names by which they were known are now almost forgotten. Ours is basically a two-party system and a third party will only cause a split in the conservative faction of the Democratic ranks which will be to the benefit of the radical elements which control that party. I can understand why many Democrats hesitate to change their party affiliation because by so doing they disenfranchise themselves from voting in primaries.

"But this is a sacrifice which must be made, an investment in the future, if we are to have the type of government our citizens deserve. But they should realize the fact that so long as they are Democrats, they belong to a party which is controlled by the most radical elements in our

Anti-Trust Suit Filed Upon NYSE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Supreme Court was asked Friday to clear the way for a major antitrust challenge of the New York Stock Exchange's brokerage commission system.

A law suit filed in behalf of shareholders in five mutual funds was brought to the high court after it was dismissed by federal courts in Chicago. They held that the federal antitrust laws could not be applied to the setting of uniform minimum commission rates.

Seeking reversal, attorneys for the shareholders said that only through the antitrust laws could the exchange and its member firms be forced "to provide a market that is free, competitive and viable."

"That the New York Stock Exchange, as the epitome of free enterprise should itself be the focal point for grand-scale restraints of trade, is an anomaly of our time," the appeal said.

The 1934 federal Securities and Exchange Law gave stock exchanges authority to regulate themselves subject to general oversight by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

"The New York Stock Exchange and its members, under the guise of self-regulation, are permitted to perpetuate a rate-fixing scheme in restraint of trade which solely rewards their own self-interest," the appeal said.

The lawsuit strikes at the system of commissions that exchange rules require brokers to charge.

More than 12 million people own shares of business firms listed on the New York Stock Exchange and more than 3 million own shares in mutual funds. The commissions for trading on the New York exchange now amount to more than $1.2 billion a year, about 35 to 40 per cent of which are paid by mutual funds and other institutional investors — "without the benefit of discounts," the appeal said.

"These investors, both institutional and otherwise, ought to be able to trade on the NYSE at reasonable rates and rate structure," the appeal said.

The lawsuit involves damage

Senate Group Takes Look At Fund Bill

World Legislative Writer
BATON ROUGE — The Senate Finance Committee Friday reviewed a $1.1 billion general appropriations bill and took under advisement additional requests for $25,500.

But during the hearing Sen. Jackson B. Davis, Shreveport, attacked the giving of public school funds for operation of a 13th and 14th grade experiment at Airline High School in Bossier City.

Davis said he would attempt to cut the funds off because the school will have the effect of a junior college. Branches of Louisiana State University and Southern University will open in Shreveport this fall and Davis said a junior college was not needed.

"This is a prime example of the need for correlation of higher education," he said. "It shows the need for a super board to play and consolidate the facilities of higher education."

The committee, meeting one day after both the House and Senate adjourned for the week-end, will hold its final hearing at 1 p.m. Monday and make final decisions on what figures to present the Senate which comes back in three hours later.

An $8,000 appropriation for Lake D'Arbonne was left intact by the committee Friday but any final voting on the bill will be done in executive session Monday afternoon. The D'Arbonne appropriation was placed on the House last Monday by Rep. James Smith, Union, and Rep. George Holstead, Lincoln.

It was not in the original budget as designed by the Legislative Budget Committee and the Division of Administration.

The appropriations bill, which is the bulk of a $1,277 billion state budget, is $851,000 over what the administration intended to spend from the state general fund. This includes the claims that have been estimated at several million dollars. It was filed by Harold Z. Kaplan, a Chicago lawyer, and other shareholders in the Lehman Corp., ONE William Street Fund Inc., Energy Fund, Inc., the Dominick Fund, Inc., and the Chemical Fund.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman of the U. S. District Court in Chicago ordered the suit dismissed without a trial Feb. 25, 1966. He said the SEC has long had "general and continuing" power to oversee exchange activity and "there is no need to resort to the antitrust laws."

political history which have no regard for the rights of any but minority groups.

"Efforts have been made by many of my friends to discourage me from entering this race as a Republican candidate. They contend that the voters will not give recognition to a minority party. I cannot believe this is so. Now is a critical time in our history. Our nation is faced with grave economic, social and educational problems. We are engaged in a tragic war which has no end and which is costing the lives of thousands of our young men. Our ideals of justice are being wiped out and our problems are not being solved but are becoming more complicated and the future of our nation is in the hands of political extremists.

"It is not now the time to do the most that can be done about it? Nationally, of course, the office of membership in the House of Representatives in Louisiana is of minor consequence and can offer little to the solution of such grave problems but the election of a Republican to that office, especially one who is dedicated to his state and nation, could give emphasis and encouragement at the state level to a move that would grow in such proportions that it would have a major influence.

"Therefore, I am entering this race as a Republican candidate for state representative not only to do the very best job I can for the people of Ouachita Parish, but also because I want to promote a competitive two-party government in the best interest of the parish and our state. I submit that my professional, business and teaching experience qualify me to understand and cope with the legislative problems which confront any member of the Legislature. I want to represent all the people of the parish without obligation to any group or faction."

Senate Group Takes Look At Fund Bill

BATON ROUGE — The Senate Finance Committee Friday received a $1.1 billion general appropriations bill and took under advisement additional requests for $25,500.

The committee, meeting one day after both the House and Senate adjourned for the weekend, will hold its final hearing at 1 p.m. Monday and make final decisions on what figures to present the Senate which comes back in three hours later.

An $8,000 appropriation for Lake D'Arbonne was left intact by the committee Friday but any final voting on the bill will be done in executive session Monday afternoon. The D'Arbonne appropriation was placed on the House last Monday by Rep. James Smith, Union, and Rep. George Holstead, Lincoln. It was not in the original budget as designed by the Legislative Budget Committee and the Division of Administration.

The appropriations bill, which is the bulk of a $1.277 billion state budget, is $851,000 over what the administration intended to spend from the state general fund. This includes the claims that have been estimated at several million dollars. It was filed by Harold Z. Kaplan, a Chicago lawyer, and other shareholders in the Lehman Corp., ONE William Street Fund Inc., Energy Fund, Inc., the Dominick Fund, Inc., and the Cehmical Fund.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman of the U. S. District Court in Chicago ordered the suit dismissed without a trial Feb. 25, 1966. He said the SEC has long had "general and continuing" power to oversee exchange activity and "there is no need to resort to the antitrust laws."

His ruling was affirmed Jan. 4 by the U. S. Circuit Court in Chicago.

$8,000 appropriation and a $900,000 amendment for adult education also placed on by the House Monday.

Rep. Robert Munson, Rapides, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee which is a counterpart to the Senate Finance Committee, said the state only had $57,000 in the general fund when the budget came into the House.

Requests for spending increases Friday came from the Division of Weights and Measures for $9,500 and $16,500 for reopening of a special summer school at the State School for Deaf Negroes.

Both were taken under advisement. If approved, this would run the general fund deficit from $851,000 to $876,500.

The budget will probably clear the Senate Monday, leaving time for House concurrence in any amendments. It must be on the governor's desk by Thursday.

The House goes back in at 10 a.m. Monday and a grant-in-aids bill has been set for special order of the day. The measure by Rep. John Garrett of Claiborne Parish diverts $3.6 million from sales tax revenues into a fund for private school scholarships.

The bill has been in trouble for the past week, but Garrett offered amendments Thursday that made it less objectionable to a strong liberal element in the House.

Garrett's bill also must be on the governor's desk Thursday, but it still must face a Senate committee and the Senate as a whole before going to the chief executive.

The bill is similar to the 1962 grant-in-aids bill which is in effect now. Garrett says his bill is actually a backup for the present program which is under court attack.

A primary difference in the two programs is that the Garrett bill bases scholarship need on a financial standard while the present program is open to any family, regardless of income.

'Propaganda' Corps

In some quarters, the United States Peace Corps has been called our "propaganda" corps. From a number of points of view, this designation seems appropriate enough.

One of the things that has always made the Peace Corps something of a thorn in the side for American taxpayers is that figures have shown, on a number of occasions, that the cost of maintaining a Peace Corps worker in a foreign country runs 10 times as high as it costs to keep a religious missionary of either Protestant or Catholic churches in those countries. The questions we always have to ask are, "Why is this? Why can our churches maintain a valuable worker in another country for one-tenth of what it costs the federal government?"

It is an established fact that the Peace Corps workers are not highly paid and that they ordinarily do not live in luxurious conditions. In fact, the government, in seeking Peace Corps workers, stresses that the pay is low and that members of the corps must work under extremely trying and sometimes uncomfortable conditions.

Another trouble with the Peace Corps, as with almost any government agency, is that it has "elephantitis." There never seems any end to how big the federal government wants to make it.

As one example of questionable practices, as brought out by Senator Allen Ellender, D. La., it has been revealed that the Peace Corps has plans to assign several hundred volunteers to our Trust Islands in the Pacific. If the plan were followed, it would mean we would have one Peace Corps representative on the islands for every 120 inhabitants. That appears to be an extremely large number of "herd riders" on islands which are already under our control and on which we don't need any young, administration - eager representatives to carry on administration-style propaganda.

Recently the Senate Foreign Relations Committee took a somewhat realistic look at the entire Peace Corps activity, in reporting a proposed measure to the Senate for continuation of the program. The administration had earlier requested total authorization of $124.1 million to carry on the Peace Corps work. This was quite an increase over funds made available for expenditure during the current year. The Foreign Relations Committee reduced the request by about $6 million. Before the legislation was approved by the Senate, it was further reduced by $3 million.

Senator Ellender, while stating he generally approved the work of the Peace Corps abroad, said the record indicated clearly that when the Peace Corps was authorized by Congress, every assurance was given that administrative expenses were to be kept to a minimum and that the establishment of another large bureaucracy both at home and abroad would never be created.

Ellender said that if this had not been true, he doubted that Congress would have looked with favor on the Peace Corps.

The Louisiana Senator said there are indications the administrative force is becoming far too large. If it takes 10 times as much to maintain a Peace Corps worker abroad as it does to maintain a Protestant or Catholic missionary and if the Peace Corpsmen draw meager salaries and live frugally, as the administration contends, where does all that 90 per cent margin above the cost of a missionary go? Is that 90 per cent paid out to the administrative force? Surely we don't need a 90 per cent administrative force (or bunch of Indian chiefs) for a 10 per cent corps of workers (Indian braves). Something must be wrong somewhere.

We have never shared the admiration of Senator Ellender for the Peace Corps. Some of the workers we have sent surely have been devoted and earnest, to the point of being fanatical, in carrying on their work but the question is, do we need a propaganda corp in the other countries, no matter how ardent they may be? And, do they do us any good? We've failed to see it. Our prestige abroad is lower than before we had the Peace Corps. Therefore, it looks as if we are paying out good money for a worse situation.

We would like to eliminate 90 to 100 per cent of our foreign aid or foreign propaganda programs, except for members of our embassies, and to hand the money thus saved back to the people, or let them keep it in the first place. Some claim we could abolish income taxes if the government only governed and didn't meddle.

Kentucky Conservative

Further evidence of a swing away from so-called liberalism and government centralization in Washington is found in the nomination of Louis B. Nunn as the Republican candidate for governor in Kentucky.

Nunn won the nomination over Marlow W. Cook, a Roman Catholic judge. Cook had sought the nomination by running as a "moderate," which is about as far to the left as any candidate wants to go in areas which show a conservative trend.

Running against Nunn in the general election will be Henry Ward, former holder of several state cabinet posts, who defeated A. B. "Happy" Chandler in the race for the Democratic nomination. Chandler had served two previous terms as chief executive. Ward was backed by Governor Edward T. Breathitt, prohibited by state law from succeeding himself.

In the last previous governor election, Nunn missed the govern-norship by only 13,000 votes when he lost to Breathitt in 1963. Breathitt's term expires in December.

There was some bitterness between Nunn and Cook, the former charging during the campaign that Cook failed to work for the election of Nunn in the 1963 race and, therefore, probably enabled a Democrat instead of a Republican to win.

During the race, Cook accused Nunn of "bigotry," a term applied to anyone who objects to forced integration and the nullification of a person's right to choose his own associates. While integration has never been much of an issue in Kentucky, people apparently resented labeling as a "bigot" anyone who believes more in preserving natural human rights than in giving special privileges to those who claimed they have been denied their rights. Cook now has promised to support Nunn.

It is believed extremely likely that the Republican candidate will win over the Democrat and that Kentucky will have a Republican governor.

Hold That Wrapper!

In a football game, one of the best-known and most-urgent battle cries is, "Hold that line." Now states and cities throughout the nation are saying, "Hold that wrapper" — gum wrapper or candy wrapper, that is.

Anyone can buy a package of five sticks of gum for five cents. That is almost the only thing we can think of in which there has been no price change in this century. At five cents for a package of five, each gum wrapper, including the gum, costs only one cent.

But read what Keep America Beautiful, Inc. says:

"The cost of picking up a cantainer or candy wrapper dropped as litter along the highway can average as high as 60 cents."

The next time you pass a sign which reads "$10 to $100 fine for throwing litter," don't look back over your shoulder for a patrolman and then throw the wrapper out if you don't see one. Instead, throw the wrapper on the floor in the back of the car. You may save yourself $100 and the state 60 cents.

Negro Agitator On U. S. Payroll

Congressman Hires Former Carmichael Man

ONE OF THE MOST aggressive anti-Vietnam war agitators has turned up on the congressional payroll.

William Higgs, a former attorney for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, a close associate of firebrand Stokely Carmichael, and a leader in organizing and directing stormy protests against congressional committees, is on the payroll of Representative Augustus Hawkins, D-Calif., member of the Labor and Education Committee.

Since being hired last January, Higgs' monthly salary has averaged around $285 as a part-time assistant to the Negro lawmaker.

In addition to staging anti-Vietnam demonstrations around the country, Higgs was spotted by Capitol police earlier this month with students protesting the draft hearings of the House Armed Services Committee.

BEFORE PLAYING a leading role in the anti-draft agitation, Higgs headed a so-called national committee of student, peace and Communist groups that sought to disrupt hearings by the House Committee on Un-American Activities on Communist influence in anti-Vietnam demonstrations.

The turbulent operations of war organization were cited by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover in testifying before a House Appropriations subcommittee.

"The Committee on Un-American Activities scheduled hearings and subpoenaed several individuals who have been active in protests against U. S. policy in Vietnam," Hoover said. "Soon thereafter, the National Committee to Defend the Civil Liberties of the Anti-war group was formed in Washington, D. C., to organize demonstrations against the hearings."

The committee was headed by William Higgs, a former attorney for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. Among the organizations sponsoring this committee were the Socialist Workers Party, the Young Socialist Alliance, the Progressive Labor Party, W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America, Students for a Democratic Society and Women Strike for Peace.

"During the hearings, many demonstrators were arrested for causing disturbances."

MORE TO COME — In recent weeks, Higgs is reliably reported to have conferred with Carmichael on the latter's announced plans "to take over Washington, lock, stock and barrel."

The ties between them are reportedly close. Sources acquainted with both describe Higgs as "one of Carmichael's principal braintrusts. Carmichael hardly makes a move without first consulting Higgs."

Other militant civil rights activists are quoting Higgs as predicting, "This summer and fall will be one of the most turbulent this country has ever seen."

NO COOPERATION — The House Judiciary Subcommittee on Immigration, investigating Stokely Carmichael's activities, has been unable to get any help from the Justice Department.

A subcommittee request, initiated by Representative Arch Moore, W. Va., ranking Republican member, to examine FBI records on Carmichael was turned down.

In a letter to Moore, Director J. Edgar Hoover stated he was under instructions from Attorney General Ramsey Clark not to make FBI files on Carmichael available to the committee.

Previously, in testifying before a House Appropriations subcommittee headed by Representative John Rooney, D-N.Y., Hoover did comment on Carmichael, as follows:

"IN ESPOUSING his philosophy of 'black power,' Carmichael has been in frequent contact with Max Stanford, field chairman of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), a highly secret all-Negro, Marxist Leninist, Chinese - Communist-oriented organization which advocates guerrilla warfare to obtain its goals, and has afforded Stanford assistance and guidance in forming a Black Panther party in New York."

In looking into Carmichael's admittance to the United States, Representative Moore has been informed that the "black power" advocate "became an American citizen in 1953 by derivation after both his parents had been naturalized."

Through this procedure, Carmichael did not have to take an oath to uphold the Constitution, as required of naturalized citizens. He was born June 29, 1941, in Trinidad, West Indies.

RIOT INCITERS — The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee is probing Carmichael's activities on college campuses where riots have erupted. Mayor Allen Thompson of Jackson, Miss., has told subcommittee members that "several of Carmichael's agitators" appeared on the campus before and during the outbreak of violence there. One of them was Willie Ricks, a top Carmichael aide.

Representative Wayne Hays, D-O., has asked the Justice Department for a report on why no legal action has been started against Carmichael for urging students not to register for the draft. Harlem's extremist Mau Mau Society, that wears red helmets and carries bayonets, has formed an "honor guard" for Adam Clayton Powell. This "honor guard" plans to escort Powell to Washington when he returns in June — if he does.

Industry In Sweden Privately Operated

NOW THAT Secretary of the Treasury H. H. Fowler has asked Congress to blast off the lid of the economy and let the national debt go into space orbit, the old arguments about the welfare state have begun to ring in Washington. It is being pointed out that this year's estimated deficit will probably run to $25 billion, which is more than the entire Federal budget of just a few decades ago.

Those who defend welfarism say that there is nothing wrong in living beyond the national means. They argue that "we owe this money to ourselves" — as specious a bit of reasoning as we have ever heard. And, they add bluntly, what if welfarism is leading the country right down the road to socialism? After all, look at Sweden. There's a socialist country that prospers and preserves its freedom even under a controlled and government - run economy. This is meant to be a clincher, but if it fails, there is always someone who suggests that perhaps this country would do better with a nationalized industry. Again — "look at Sweden."

WELL, A number of people have looked at Sweden. They find, first, that it has an oppressively high tax rate to finance its social security and public housing without going into the kind of debt that has become one of the uglier facts of life in these United States. But it has made sure to let private enterprise flourish. It has to, because in almost every industry, private ownership is overwhelmingly predominant. This came as a shock to me when I came across the figures, all from the Stockholm Chamber of Commerce, which Fred G. Clark had researched some time ago.

However often the bureaucrats and the socializers point to Sweden's allegedly collective economy, the facts stand in downright contradiction. Those who continue to repeat the myth of Swedish socialism are simply trying to sell us a bill of goods. Only in the fields of iron mining and power production make any kind of showing, although it still makes up less than half in both cases.

THE FIGURES are interesting. In steelmaking, private industry produces 93 percent, government enterprise 7 percent. In electrical manufacturing the breakdown is private industry 92 per cent, government enterprise 6 percent, and the highly touted consumer cooperatives 2 percent. The chemical industries are 92.2 percent private, 2.5 percent government, and consumer cooperatives 5.3 percent. Shipping and shipbuilding are also stummers. Shipbuilding, in which government should be very big, is 99.8 percent private. Shipping is 99 percent private.

As Fred G. Clark notes, in a study for the American Economic Foundation, less than 10 percent of all industry is government, and the private profit motive dominates the economy. "When the Swedes cannot meet a price they try to design their products so attractively that they will be worth more to the consumer. When the Swedes run into a stone wall of price competition, they strive to invent better labor saving machinery and thus cut their costs.

LITTLE SWEDEN, without the tremendous resources in raw materials and manpower, has the third highest annual per capita production in the world and one of the highest living standards. It has achieved this position precisely because it has refused to turn to the kind of socialized economy that has pushed Great Britain from one economic crisis to another.

The socializers on Capitol Hill, and their punditlike verbalizers, ignore the fact that Britain's vast national debt and its slipping production are responsible for her declining position. They also overlook the fact that it has been the socialized economies which have been the sickest ones, needing frequent infusions of American foreign aid.

When they speak of Sweden as a "model," they may be right, but it is certainly no model of socialism. That myth should be put to rest along with other prevalent economic myths. If America is to continue down the road of welfarism, then the financing must frankly come from taxes, not from schemes that cripple the economy which today gives this country its industrial strength.

National Review Puts Out Weird Headlines

THE CURRENT issue of National Review has published a "Special Issue of the New York Times" reporting the morning's news as it would appear if, on the evening before, the editors of Ramparts and Partisan Review, Conor Cruise O'Brien and Martin Luther King were elected as a Special Advisory Committee to God.

The headlines: "Viet Situation Worsens — Saigon Pullout Rumored—As Anti-Ky Riots Spread." The three sub-heads: "V. C. Sabotage Slows Relief of U. S. Troops," "Renewalists," "Hold Capital, Hunt Premier," and "Deterioration Seen Helping Drive to Impeach Johnson." You can take the story from there.

ELSEWHERE on the front page: "RFK T. Make White House Race in 1968," "Expect Bosch Return Today (Subj: 'Triumphal Constitutionalists Are Mopping Up Last Diehards in Dominican Republic')." "Death Toll in Rhodesia Cut to 1,700," ("unofficial reports from the field indicate that at least 1700 white settlers were executed last week when the ragged troops of the Army of the Organization of African Unity swept across the Zambian border in a pre-dawn sweep . . .")

And completing the front page: "Papal Encyclical Abandons 1870's Infallibility Rule." "Wallace Fate Remains Dark." ("Speculation on the fate of former Alabama Governor George C. Wallace mounted in the early hours of this morning as the blockade of Dallas County by Black Panther militants continued.") And: "FBI Rocked — Hoover Resigns." "Typewriter Forger Confesses." "The controversial Hiss's Chambers took a dramatic new turn today when a former FBI agent confessed that he forged the Woodstock typewriter which was used to convict Alger Hiss of perjury . . ."

INSIDE, THERE is more of the same. General Suharto in Jakarta repledges Indonesia to Socialism. Mario Savio announces full student control of the Berkeley Campus. Dr. Jesus Galindez who disappeared ten years ago from Columbia University turns up in Madrid and assassinated Franco, there is a rise of Nazism in Germany. And a little item on the bottom of the page from Los Angeles: "Fire last night swept portions of Beverly Hills, completely destroying the homes of John Wayne, Resnais, 'Typewriter Forger Confesses.'" "The controversial Hiss's Chambers took a dramatic new turn today when a former FBI agent confessed that he forged the Woodstock typewriter which was used to convict Alger Hiss of perjury . . ."

On the third page, there is coverage of cultural and philosophical affairs. Bishop Pike, in commenting on the Dead Sea Scroll discovery that St. Paul was a homosexual, "Claims Deviation No Holiness Bar." Britain abolishes the private schools there is an opening of a new play at the Mercy Community Church Playhouse, entitled "The Statue of Liberty Has Ugly Pimples All Over Her Rotten White Middle-Class Power-Structure."

The weeks best sellers include: "Kerala: India's Hope," by Harrison Salisbury, "To Hell With You, Uncle Sambo!" by James Baldwin, and "How to Raise a Peaceful Child," by Dr. Benjamin Spock. And there is an advertisement by a Committee for a Free Australia and New Zealand ("Since gaining dominion status, the governments of Australia and New Zealand have been permitted to exploit these Asian territories unchecked . . .")

A PARODY, yes, of course. But the special issue is saying important things, and communicating special insights. There is a very deep anti - Americanism in the land today, and it chimes right through the ritual protestations of patriotism which are themselves infrequent. The syndrome tends to be pretty tight.

The same issue of the New York Times that, a few weeks ago, carried the report of Martin Luther King's tirade against the use of force in South Vietnam, carried the report of a committee urging the use of force in Rhodesia against the signers was Martin Luther King. Who would do that, in their hearts, some critics of our foreign policy would welcome a military victory by the enemy (Professor Chomsky of MIT explicitly desires it).

Wouldn't a great many people rejoice if it were proved that the FBI had been involved in a plot to smear Alger Hiss? The kind of people who so little respect the country's institutions that they find themselves personally wishing the worst might prove true, even as Robert Welch would rejoice if it could be shown that Dwight Eisenhower was a communist. Aldous Huxley was correct in remarking that parody is the most penetrating form of criticism.

'Propaganda' Corps

In some quarters, the United States Peace Corps has been called our "propaganda" corps. From a number of points of view, this designation seems appropriate enough.

One of the things that has always made the Peace Corps something of a thorn in the side for American taxpayers is that figures have shown, on a number of occasions, that the cost of maintaining a Peace Corps worker in a foreign country runs 10 times as high as it costs to keep a religious missionary of either Protestant or Catholic churches in those countries. The questions we always have to ask are, "Why is this? Why can our churches maintain a valuable worker in another country for one-tenth of what it costs the federal government?"

It is an established fact that the Peace Corps workers are not highly paid and that they ordinarily do not live in luxurious conditions. In fact, the government, in seeking Peace Corps workers, stresses that the pay is low and that members of the corps must work under extremely trying and sometimes uncomfortable conditions.

Another trouble with the Peace Corps, as with almost any government agency, is that it has "elephantitis." There never seems any end to how big the federal government wants to make it.

As one example of questionable practices, as brought out by Senator Allen Ellender, D., La., it has been revealed that the Peace Corps has plans to assign several hundred volunteers to our Trust Islands in the Pacific. If the plan were followed, it would mean we would have one Peace Corps representative on the islands for every 130 inhabitants. That appears to be an extremely large number of "herd riders" on islands which are already under our control and on which we don't need any young, administration - eager representatives to carry on administration-style propaganda.

Recently the Senate Foreign Relations Committee took a somewhat realistic look at the entire Peace Corps activity, in reporting a proposed measure to the Senate for continuation of the program. The administration had earlier requested total authorization of $124.4 million to carry on the Peace Corps work. This was quite an increase over funds made available for expenditure during the current year. The Foreign Relations Committee reduced the request by about $6 million. Before the legislation was approved by the Senate, it was further reduced by $3 million.

Senator Ellender, while stating he generally approved the work of the Peace Corps abroad, said the record indicated clearly that when the Peace Corps was authorized by Congress, every assurance was given that administrative expenses were to be kept to a minimum and that the establishment of another large bureaucracy both at home and abroad would never be created.

Ellender said that if this had not been true, he doubted that Congress would have looked with favor on the Peace Corps.

The Louisiana Senator said there are indications the administrative force is becoming far too large. If it takes 10 times as much to maintain a Peace Corps worker abroad as it does to maintain a Protestant or Catholic missionary and if the Peace Corpsmen draw meager salaries and live frugally, as the administration contends, where does all that 90 per cent margin above the cost of a missionary go? Is that 90 per cent paid out to the administrative force? Surely we don't need a 90 per cent administrative force (or bunch of Indian chiefs) for a 10 per cent corps of workers (Indian braves). Something must be wrong somewhere.

We have never shared the admiration of Senator Ellender for the Peace Corps. Some of the workers we have sent surely have been devoted and earnest, to the point of being fanatical, in carrying on their work but the question is, do we need a propaganda corp in the other countries, no matter how ardent they may be? And, do they do us any good? We've failed to see it. Our prestige abroad is lower than before we had the Peace Corps. Therefore, it looks as if we are paying out good money for a worse situation.

We would like to eliminate 90 to 100 per cent of our foreign aid or foreign propaganda programs, except for members of our embassies, and to hand the money thus saved back to the people, or let them keep it in the first place. Some claim we could abolish income taxes if the government only governed and didn't meddle.

Kentucky Conservative

Further evidence of a swing away from so-called liberalism and government centralization in Washington is found in the nomination of Louie B. Nunn as the Republican candidate for governor in Kentucky.

Nunn won the nomination over Marlow W. Cook, a Roman Catholic judge. Cook had sought the nomination by running as a "moderate," which is about as far to the left as any candidate wants to go in areas which show a conservative trend.

Running against Nunn in the general election will be Henry Ward, former holder of several state cabinet posts, who defeated A. B. "Happy" Chandler in the race for the Democratic nomination. Chandler had served two previous terms as chief executive. Ward was backed by Governor Edward T. Breathitt, prohibited by state law from succeeding himself.

In the last previous governor election, Nunn missed the govern-norship by only 13,000 votes when he lost to Breathitt in 1963. Breathitt's term expires in December.

There was some bitterness between Nunn and Cook, the former charging during the campaign that Cook failed to work for the election of Nunn in the 1963 race and, therefore, probably enabled a Democrat instead of a Republican to win.

During the race, Cook accused Nunn of "bigotry," a term applied to anyone who objects to forced integration and the nullification of a person's right to chose his own associates. While integration has never been much of an issue in Kentucky, people apparently resented labeling as a "bigot" anyone who believes more in preserving natural human rights than in giving special privileges to those who claimed they have been denied their rights. Cook now has promised to support Nunn.

It is believed extremely likely that the Republican candidate will win over the Democrat and that Kentucky will have a Republican governor.

Wouldn't a great many people rejoice if it were proved that the FBI had been involved in a plot to smear Alger Hiss? The kind of people who so little respect the country's institutions that they find themselves perversely wishing the worst might prove true, even as Robert Welch would rejoice if it could be shown that Dwight Eisenhower was a communist. Aldous Huxley was correct in remarking that parody is the most penetrating form of criticism.

Rep. Powell's Dallas Police Contradict Garrison's Theory On Oswald

Constituents Get No Action

NEW YORK (AP)—A week ago, the letter writer said, his and two other tenement apartments were wrecked by fire. As the dazed residents made their way to temporary quarters, thieves carted away their few salvageable pieces of furniture.

Couldn't the congressman arrange protection for the things fire victims had to leave behind?

Four months ago, the answer might have been yes. Through a telephone call to a city official, perhaps, or a friend in the Police Department.

But Adam Clayton Powell, to whom the letter was addressed, hadn't represented the 300,000 people living in Harlem since the House of Representatives excluded him March 1. His staff was finding it increasingly difficult to get action without a congressman's prestige to back up their demands.

"We're trying our best to handle the problems that arise," said Lillian Usher, a Democratic co-leader in Powell's congressional district, the 18th.

"But it's almost an impossible situation. Our advice came from him, of course. We knew his name and his prestige meant so much in order to get things done. It wasn't necessary to wait around wondering if certain problems could be corrected."

The people of Harlem also have found that there's no one to hear their voice on major issues. For example, said one man, when the House killed a $10-million appropriation for expanded rent supplements, "They weren't able to go to someone."

"They got angry, bitter." Even though Powell hasn't set foot in his district for six months, letters asking for help arrive at his Washington office at the rate of 250 to 300 a week, a former aide estimated. He said they've come even faster since Powell was re-elected in an April 11 special election.

Other letters come to his Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem, or to his old district office in the Alfred E. Isaacs Democratic Club on Seventh Avenue a few blocks north of the church. Many are mailed to Bimini, Bahama Islands, where Powell has been living since November, 1966.

Odell Clark, chief investigator for the House Education and Labor Committee when Powell headed it, and now one of three employees in Powell's old Washington office, outlined the problems his staff faces.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Three Dallas officers active in the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy in 1963 say that Lee Harvey Oswald never fired a shot.

These key investigators also discount the New Orleans prosecutor's theory that a team of guerrillas fanned out on the crest of a park to kill Kennedy and escape undetected.

"I don't think there's any question but that Oswald did some shooting, and indications are all of the shooting," said Dist. Atty. Henry Wade.

Retired Police Chief Jesse Curry, who drove the car preceding the President's in the motorcade, said there was no ruckus on the Dealey Plaza lawn preceding the shooting, as Garrison claims.

He said if guerrilla gunmen had crouched behind a three-foot stone wall in the plaza as Garrison says, Curry and Sheriff Bill Decker and Secret Service men could have seen them from the street as they drove by. He said his policemen atop the railroad overpass overlooking Dealey Plaza likewise could have spotted any persons behind the stone wall or even behind the 5-foot-tall picket fence which is 26 feet in back of the stone wall.

"There were people in the park and by the stone wall but they sure weren't squatting down shooting. I'll tell you that," Curry said. "We just didn't see anything that would indicate that at all."

For eight months, Garrison has independently been scrutinizing the assassination, vowing to prove the Warren Commission wrong in its finding that Oswald alone killed Kennedy and that Jack Ruby also acted independently when he gunned down Oswald during a jail transfer two days later.

Garrison says he has uncovered a conspiracy to kill Kennedy before or after the assassination is a matter of speculation. I don't know.

"It was his gun, there were three empty shells by the window, he was seen in the window, his prints were found there, and everybody else was down watching the motorcade and he was upstairs," Wade said.

Wade and Curry said they looked but found no proof that Oswald and Ruby knew each other.

Wade said 8 or 10 persons volunteered information that Ruby and Oswald were together on occasions but he said he could not vouch for the credibility of any of them. A local lawyer failed a lie detector test about such beliefs and some of the other informants were alleged homosexuals or police characters.

Garrison said the assassins apparently used "frangible bullets," which he described as a type forbidden by the Geneva Treaty, that explode into little pieces and leave nothing behind to be traced to the gun. He said these bullets would be favored by forces working for an intelligence agency.

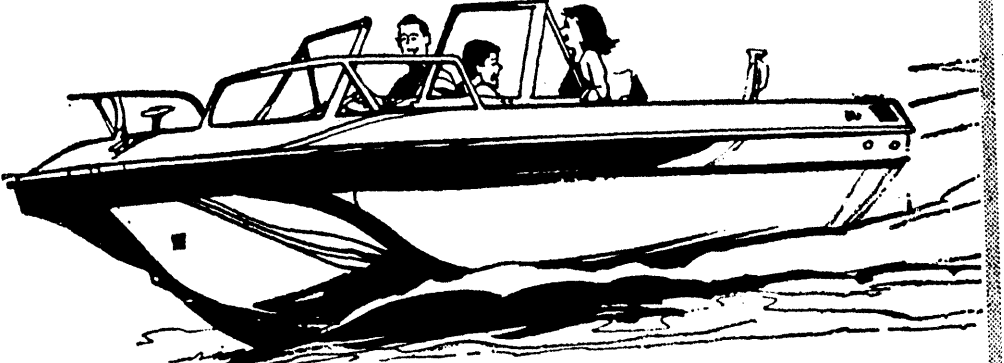

A firearms expert here said a frangible bullet does indeed fragment into tiny pieces—but the shattering is upon impact, before any penetration. The soft, compressed graphite bullets are used for target practice and might barely pierce a tin can at 50 yards. The firearms expert said he knew of no bullet which combines the characteristics Garrison named, since soft-nose bullets which cause a gaping wound and much internal damage leave traceable elements.

Dallas Police Contradict Garrison's Theory On Oswald

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Three Dallas officers active in the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy in 1963 say that Orleans Parish Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison is wrong when he says that Lee Harvey Oswald never fired a shot.

These key investigators also discount the New Orleans prosecutor's theory that a team of guerrillas fanned out on the crest of a park to kill Kennedy and escape undetected.

"I don't think there's any question but that Oswald did some shooting, and indications are all of the shooting," said Dist. Atty. Henry Wade.

Retired Police Chief Jesse Curry, who drove the car preceding the President's in the motorcade, said there was no shooting on the Dealey Plaza lawn preceding the shooting, as Garrison claims.

For eight months, Garrison has independently been scrutinizing the assassination, vowing to prove the Warren Commission wrong in its finding that Oswald alone killed Kennedy and that Jack Ruby also acted independently when he gunned down Oswald during a jail transfer two days later.

Garrison says he has uncovered a conspiracy to kill Kennedy between Oswald, a now-dead pilot, David Ferrie, a New Orleans businessman, Clay Shaw, and others.

He says the Central Intelligence Agency is concealing the whereabouts of the assassins because they had been CIA employees.

"I never did rule out some encouragement of Oswald," said Wade, "but whether there was a conspiracy or an accomplice before or after the assassination is a matter of speculation. I don't know."

"It was his gun, there were three empty shells by the window, he was seen in the window, his prints were found there, and everybody else was down watching the motorcade and he was upstairs," Wade said.

Wade and Curry said they looked but found no proof that Oswald and Ruby knew each other.

New York Stock Exchange prices:

NEW YORK (AP) — Investors sat on their hands Friday in view of many uncertainties and the result was an irregular stock market decline in light trading.

Volume was 7.82 million shares, the Dow Jones industrial average fell 39 to 870.32.

What excitement there was derived from an assortment of specially situated issues, some of which moved widely.

Outstanding in this category was Chicago & North Western Railway which soared 19 points to 126 1/4 as third most active stock. The issue ran up on publication of the terms whereby the railway would acquire Essex Wire.

Essex Wire (new) was the most active stock and sank 1 1/2 to 40 on 135,200 shares as investors displayed their disappointment at the terms of the acquisition.

Milwaukee Railroad advanced 3 1/2 to 52 1/2 for a better than 10 per cent rise in one day as it responded sympathetically to the strength in C&NW, with which a merger is possible.

Other issues responded to special influences, but the market as a whole was weighed down by the still threatening Middle East crisis. It also expressed concern because of the approaching weekend. It will be a long one for some businesses which will close Monday as well as Tuesday, Memorial Day.

One analyst said that the market performance was "not surprising in view of the uncertain international situation and the impending weekend but it also showed that Thursday's rally was primarily technical in nature." The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .5 to 323.7 with industrials up 1, rails up 1.3 to a new high for the year and utilities down .4 to a new low for the year.

Of 1,432 issues traded, 536 rose and 641 fell. New highs for the year totaled 55 and new lows 57.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index fell .21 to 90.98.

The New York Stock Exchange index fell 9 cents to $50.25.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks rose, five fell and American Motors was unchanged.

The billion-share for cumulative volume this year on the
New York Stock Exchange. This
put the Exchange well on the way to another record year on trading. Last year the billion mark was not reached until
June 23, so the market was almost a month ahead of 1966.

Another one of the special situations involved Worthington, which rose 3 1/2 to 65 1/2, and Studebaker, which fell 2 1/2 to 63 1/2, following publication of the terms of their proposed merger.

Lionel, strong in early trading, ended with a loss of 1/4 at 7 1/4 as traders "sold on the news" that Lionel had acquired
the American Flyer Line of A.C.
Gilbert Co.

United Aircraft gained 1 1/4 on news it had received a $59.8 million Air Force order.

Occidental Petroleum rose
1 1/4. As the largest shareholder of Kern County Land it has an interest in the proposed merger
of that company into Tenneco.

International Telephone lost
1 1/4. Control Data, IBM 3,
Standard Oil (New Jersey) 1 1/4
and Eastern Air Lines 1 1/4.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 2.98 million shares. The Exchange's index fell 6 cents to $18.65.

Corporate bonds were unchanged to a little lower. U.S.
Treasury bonds rallied.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks rose, five fell and American Motors was unchanged.

The billion-share for cumulative volume this year on the
New York Stock Exchange. This
put the Exchange well on the way to another record year on trading. Last year the billion
mark was not reached until
June 23, so the market was almost a month ahead of 1966.

Another one of the special situations involved Worthington,
which rose 3 1/2 to 65 1/2, and Studebaker, which fell 2 1/2 to 63 1/2,
following publication of the terms of their proposed merger.

Lionel, strong in early trading, ended with a loss of 1/4 at 7 1/4 as traders "sold on the news" that Lionel had acquired
the American Flyer Line of A.C.
Gilbert Co.

United Aircraft gained 1 1/4 on news it had received a $59.8 million Air Force order.

Occidental Petroleum rose
1 1/4. As the largest shareholder of Kern County Land it has an interest in the proposed merger
of that company into Tenneco.

International Telephone lost
1 1/4. Control Data, IBM 3,
Standard Oil (New Jersey) 1 1/4
and Eastern Air Lines 1 1/4.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 2.98 million shares. The Exchange's index fell 6 cents to $18.65.

Corporate bonds were unchanged to a little lower. U.S.
Treasury bonds rallied.

Futures Up On Chicago Trade Board

CHICAGO (AP) — The weather and the international crisis in the Middle East were important factors in the advance of grain futures prices on the Chicago Board of Trade Friday.

Corn prices moved nearly 4 cents a bushel ahead on a report that continued wet fields in the Eastern portion of the country may force some farmers to divert their corn acreage to soybeans.

The report, by the American Soybean Association, sent the March corn contract 3 3/4 cents ahead. After some profit taking prices fell back.

Wheat futures opened slightly higher than advanced on reports that little progress toward peace had been made. The United Arab Republic, in fact, had turned down a United States peace proposal.

Good export and commercial interest buying propped up soybeans prices until nearly the close when a wave of selling brought prices down.

Oats and rye advanced in light trade.

Soybean oil traded lower but soybean meal closed mostly higher.

Good trade by locals was a feature on the choice steer market and prices closed higher.

At the close wheat was 5 1/4 cents a bushel higher, 1.67 1/4; corn was to 2 1/4 cents higher, 1.35 1/4; oats were to 1 1/4 cents higher, 72 1/4; rye was to 3 1/4 cents higher, 1.24 1/4; and soybeans were to 1 1/4 cents higher, 72 1/4. Soybean meal was 1.24 1/4.

U.S. Rifle Company Battles Red Berets

WITH THE U.S. 4TH DIVISION, the North Vietnamese battle group sprang an ambush on an understrength company of the U.S. 4th Division.

The whine and crackle of bullets and the crash of mortar fire caught most of the company during a rest break in dense jungle near the Cambodian border. The Americans had been slogging up a hill commanding a Communist infiltration route from Cambodia in the central highlands.

The company commander jumped to a half-crouch, getting ready to order his troops into action. A bullet hit just under his left eye and he dropped dead on the trail.

The top sergeant took control, began shouting for the troops to deploy against snipers and the infantry assaults he knew were coming.

The last ranking U.S. Sgt. Richard Childers, 33, of Akron, Ohio, may have saved the company. Within minutes of the start of the battle, that was to last three hours, all the company's officers were either dead or wounded.

Snipers tied in trees took a quick and deadly toll.

One wounded man was hit repeatedly as he lay against the legs of another wounded man. The second man called for a medic, not for himself, but for his buddy.

Under Childers' command and the shouted orders of other senior U.S. sergeants, the Americans counterattacked and took a small knoll nearby.

The casualties were high but the American riflemen's courage and tenacity paid off. They caught 50 camouflaged assault troops wearing red berets, out in the open and moved them down with machine gun and automatic weapons fire. When the battle ended, 71 North Vietnamese lay dead.

The victory exacted its cost among the Americans — almost half the company. By noon the enemy mortar fire was hitting with more regularity near the American position. One round hit the middle among 10 Americans killing or wounding all of them.

The last functioning officer, a platoon leader, earlier had been hit in the stomach by shrapnel from an 82mm mortar round as he tried to form one of the first counterattacks.

Pfc. Bob James, Milford, Conn., a rifleman, was the only man left firing out of the seven man squad he started out with. "The bullets are cracking so close you can kiss them if you want to," he said at one point during the fight.

The tree he was using for shelter was cut and ripped by dozens of bullets within a foot or so of his head.

House Members Grumbling About Late Sessions

WASHINGTON (AP) — In-session until nearly 2 A.M., the pre-creasing numbers of House members are grumbling, in private and in public, about the leadership's scheduling of important bills which results in late night sessions.

It spilled over onto the floor Thursday night as members rose to complain about being forced to stay late to vote on an important bill, extension of the draft, after having been in session until nearly 2 A.M., the previous night on the education bill. "I must say this is the most disgraceful way to legislate a bill of this magnitude which I have ever seen," Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., said after a time limitation permitted only one minute for consideration of his amendment to end graduate student deferments.

Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa, a perennial House gadfly, spoke for some of the older members when he said that "when one gets to be around 70 years old it gets to be a little bit wearing and tearing to have these consecutive midnight sessions."

Gross was stretching the point a bit. The session ended a little before 11 p.m.

The reason for the late session was the leadership's desire to accommodate Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee, who wanted action on the bill this week because of other commitments next week. Major provisions of the draft law expire June 30.

The House bill would extend the law for four years and continue deferments for college undergraduates. A companion Senate bill would give the administration greater leeway to revise procedures. A Senate House conference committee will draft the final version.

Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., pointed to another reason for the situation when he said "I know that the chestnut blossoms may be in bloom along the banks of the Seine," a reference to the plans of some members to go to Paris in a few days for an international air show.

The late session was made almost inevitable by a decision to schedule both the education measure and a $13.1-billion appropriation bill for the labor and welfare departments ahead of the draft measure.

U.S. Rifle Company Battles Red Berets

WITH THE U.S. 4TH DIVISION (AP) — The North Vietnamese battalion sprang an ambush like a thunderclap Friday on an understrength company of the U.S. 4th Division.

The top sergeant took control, began shouting for the troops to deploy against snipers and the infantry assaults he knew were coming.

The fast thinking by M. Sgt. Richard Childers, 35, of Akron, Ohio, may have saved the company. Within minutes of the start of the battle, that was to last three hours, all the company's officers were either dead or wounded.

Snipers tied in trees took a quick and deadly toll.

One wounded man was hit repeatedly as he lay against the legs of another wounded man. The second man called for a medic, not for himself, but for his buddy.

The tree he was using for shelter was cut and ripped by dozens of bullets within a foot or so of his head.

One of the wounded men who had been hit in the face called out. "I can't see, I can't see. God help me. Where's some cover?"

Another man was choking as his lungs began to fill with blood. He began crying and singing incoherently. Twenty minutes later he slumped into silence.

"Conserve your ammo, conserve your ammo," Platoon Sgt. Paul Ingrams, Cambridge, Ohio, yelled. "There may be more ground assaults."

Ingrams was commanding one of the officerless platoons. A former Marine, Ingrams repeatedly ignored his own safety to race in a half-crouch to danger points.

Probably because the company was still unsure of its own position in the featureless jungle, artillery was unable to give close support for more than two hours. Helicopter gunships arrived still later.

It was an infantryman's war at its bloodiest. The odds were loaded, at least temporarily, in favor of the North Vietnamese. They had surprise, and the mortars.

A platoon from another company, from about a mile away, fought its way into the American company's area. A second reinforcing platoon was driven back by heavy fire.

The platoon that made it was led by Lt. Brankko Marinovich of Fresno, Calif., commander of the company.

Marinovich arrived just before the last big North Vietnamese assault was launched. The thrust was smashed by the unwavering Americans.

Then the helicopters struck with rocket and machine-gun fire. They raked the North Vietnamese ambush position and shot snipers from their hideouts in the trees. With that, the fight was quickly over.

Tumult, Sentiment Of School's End

YEEEEEEEEEEEEHah! — Or, a Rebel Yell by any other name was sound so sweet at Ouachita Parish Junior High School on Friday as emancipated youngsters stamped out into the bright summer sunshine for three golden months of vacation. Brandishing their report cards, these youngsters are certainly on their way without loosing a second. Now they are off to the ole swimming hole, making plans to visit grandma, or "just plain relaxing." (Staff Photo by Mike Windham)

"I PASSED, I PASSED!" these two students seemed to be saying on Friday morning just after being handed their report cards at Ouachita Parish Junior High School. Though most of the youngsters seemed more than happy to get "out," still, there was a large measure of sadness present with many of the students saying they did not want to have to leave their friends, favorite teachers, and class excursions. Most placed swimming at the top of their vacation "things-to-do" list. (Staff Photo by Tommy Frazer)

Value Of Leadership Topic Of Talk At ROTC Ceremony

ROTC graduates at Northeast Louisiana State College were told Friday afternoon that responsible leadership is built upon the individual.

Making the address was Herman R. Sigler, dean of the division of Student Services at Northeast.

"Self - discipline, self - reliance and self - direction are the keys," he said. "Know your-self, your assets and your weaknesses."

Sigler added that religion, environment and various types of activities are all important. "Don't fear mistakes," he warned. "Acknowledge them and learn from them."

A total of 18 men and one woman were commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army Reserve. Lt. Col. Travis A. French, professor of military science at NLSC, presented the commissions.

The woman, Louise Gray from Heflin, has attended the Women's Army Corps School at Fort McClellan, Ala. After this training, women are not under obligation to continue, but may elect to do so. Lt. Gray's commission in the WAC will lead to further military training.

Seven of the 18 men were designated as Distinguished Military graduates. Upon this basis, they are eligible to apply for regular Army commissions.

The DMG's are Jimmy Don Baggett of Columbia; Michael Ross Caldwell, Wisner; John Louis Demouruelle, Ville Platte; Joseph Wilson Lane Jr., Monroe; Tommy Levell Ramsey, Swartz; Kermit Dale Reppond, Monroe; and John Louis Ross Jr., Mobile, Ala.

The largest number, five, received commissions in the Transportation Corps. Of the others, four were commissioned in the Medical Service Corps, two each in Armor and in Ordnance; and one each in the Signal Corps, Infantry, Finance Corps, Artillery and Intelligence Corps.

Those commissioned are listed by service branches. Transportation — Baggett, Caldwell; Jerry Lee Clappitt, Monroe; Ramsey; and Mickael Edward Vining, Forest. Medical Service — Thomas Lewis Day, Columbia; Demouruelle; Christopher Hayne

O'Shea, Alexandria; and Ross. Armor — Harvey Lea Hales Jr., Monroe; and Larry Dale Robertson, Kilbourne. Ordnance — Joseph Preston Hollier, Sulphur; and Reppond. Signal Corps — Donald Leon Englerth, Pineville.

Man Keeps Arm, Loses Privacy

SOMMERVILLE, Mass. (AP)—Everett Knowles, 17, who made medical history five years ago when surgeons sewed back on his severed right arm, was placed on probation for a year Friday on motor vehicle charges.

Judge Alan Roy Kingston lectured the youth for operating a motor vehicle without authority on May 1.

"Everytime you do something," Judge Kingston said, "it's known all over the country. Whether you like it or not, you're a public figure."

By TOMMY FRAZER

World Staff Writer

When the kids reported to school on Friday morning to pick up their report cards, one totally unexpected conclusion was inescapable—the kids didn't really want to leave.

Though they'll probably snort with derision if informed of the above "heresy," nevertheless it seemed to hold true at least for members of Mrs. B. P. Golliber's accelerated sixth grade class at Ouachita Parish Junior High School.

First a voice vote poll was taken that indicated these students were reluctant to leave, but on further consideration it was suspected that the presence of Mrs. Golliber and Mrs. Malinda Hilton, school guidance counselor, influenced this enthusiastic decision.

So they left the room for a moment, and a second poll was taken, this time by a show of hands. A quick glance revealed that every hand was in the air, testifying to a unanimous desire not to leave school.

One little girl, when asked why she did not want to leave, had this to say, "I like being in school because of the class trips and being with my friends. The summer's going to be boring because there's not going to be anything to do."

Some Plans For The Summer

Another girl sporting a fresh case of sunburn was then asked, "I notice you've got a bit of sunburn. I'll bet you've got something planned for the summer. What is it?"

"Swim," she replied.

"What else?"

"Watch TV, I guess."

One little boy allowed he planned to spend the summer hiking with his friends, and a little girl said she was off to visit her grandmother who lives "about 12 miles out of Ruston."

However a truer picture of prevailing opinion was obtained, it seems, when one youngster blurted, "Actually we don't like the work; we like recesses best!"

Another little girl was noticed with her hand upraised, so she was asked why she wanted to stay. "Because I like my teacher," was her reply.

One fetching little lass was somewhat more to the point as to what she had in mind for summer vacation. "Go swimming, what else? And write letters and talk to boys."

For one wandering up and down the halls watching the students exchange their goodbyes, hugging teachers and crying either for joy or for sadness, one question was heard, repeated over and over, "Didja pass?"

They Were Hilarious Earlier

According to Mrs. Hilton, students had felt differently on Wednesday, the last day of "real" school. "Wednesday, they were hilarious and they were enjoying the fact that school was out, but by Friday they'd come back to say goodbye to their friends, and that's the end of that."

By about 9 a.m., most of the younger students had picked up their report cards and had driven off with their mothers who had been waiting outside with the family automobile.

Shortly later, the loaded school busses, filled with shouting, laughing students, revved their engines and growled away, crunching gravel noisily as they made their way out onto the road, homeward bound.

Soon all that was left was one small boy standing alone, idly tossing rocks to pass the time—a symbol, perhaps, of summer loneliness.

Degrees Presented At Northeast State

Mary Louise Evans of Ringgold was recognized as the top honor graduate of the 1967 graduating class of Northeast Louisiana State College in commencement ceremonies here Friday night.

A total of 285 students received degrees in the graduation exercises, held in Neville Auditorium. Twenty-seven of the students received graduate degrees and 258 received bachelor's degrees.

Mrs. Evans compiled a 3.787 average out of a possible 4.0 on all work credited toward her degree. She received the bachelor of arts in English education.

There were 48 honor graduates

There were 48 honor graduates, finishing with "B" averages or better. Official Tells Graduates Of 'Halfway Solution' Age

A distinguished educator told members of the 1967 graduating class at Northeast Louisiana State College here Friday night that they will live in the "age of the halfway solution."

Dr. Paul A. Miller, assistant secretary for education in the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, spoke to 285 graduates in Neville Auditorium in Northeast's spring commencement ceremonies.

The difficulty in being successful both in one's job and as a husband or wife, great government programs that have not been as successful as hoped, the demand for new services government without methods for financing them, and the lack of long - range planning were some of the examples of halfway solutions cited by Miller.

Dr. Miller suggested four reasons for this state of affairs. First, we have not learned how to "live fully amid the separation of a man's job from his family and community life;" second, modern problems are growing faster in size and complexity than our methods of solving them; third, ours is now an urban society, yet we "limp along with services and institutions which took root in our rural past;" and fourth, we are training many technicians but not enough leaders.

The speaker told the graduates they will soon be called upon to do something about these problems. "When that moment arrives I hope that you will have learned here that your real education begins today," he said. "Every commencement speech says that, but I want to add something more. Your employer will see to it that your technical skills are refurbished; so shift the learning which you do for yourself to the family and community side."

Miller urged the graduates to be committed, to "stand up for your beliefs" and "bring a new influence to public life. May each of you — elected, technical, or voluntarily — serve in the public interest."

"The urgency is too great," Dr. Miller said, for the world to wait for solutions from the 1967 graduating class. The new graduates may help solve the BRUSSELS (UPI) — The number of traffic accidents in which one of the persons involved was under the influence of alcohol rose from 2,688 in 1951 to 7,024 in 1965, according to figures recently released by the National Statistics Institute.

In the same period the number of persons sentenced for drunken driving jumped from 2,156 to 6,514. In addition to prison sentences varying with the seriousness of the accidents, the defendants were banned from driving for periods ranging from one month to life.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Twelve square blocks in this city's central downtown shopping area are being completely rebuilt and by 1972 will be the world's largest climate-controlled commercial area "under one roof."

Office buildings, a high-rise apartment building and other commercial structures will be connected by a second-floor pedestrian concourse with enclosed passageways over the street.

Around The World

WASHINGTON — President Johnson conferred with Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban for nearly 90 minutes Friday night. There was no indication immediately whether they had reached any decision on possible action to avert an Arab-Israeli war.

UNITED NATIONS — Secretary-General C. Thant worked on his report to the U.N. Security Council on his Cairo talks with Egypt's President Nasser. Diplomatic sources expected it would be in the hands of the 15 council delegations Saturday.

Other sources said Israel, trying to avoid a direct confrontation with Egypt, has instructed Israeli ships not to try to pass through the Strait of Tiran now.

BEIRUT — Lebanese police and firemen with hoses dispersed a crowd of students who stormed university gates trying to get into Beirut streets and demonstrate against U.S. support of Israel. Preachers exhorted their faithful on the Moslem sabbath to be ready for a holy war against Israel.

CAIRO — Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser said his country is thoroughly prepared for a war which, if it comes, "will be total, and the objective will be to destroy Israel." But he said Egypt had achieved its objectives by blockading the Gulf of Aqaba and preventing an "attack" on Syria and that war would come only if Israel starts it.

MOSCOW — A Soviet spokesman told a news conference the Kremlin is considering a Big Four peace effort — including Britain, France, the Soviet Union and the United States. The Soviet Union again blamed Israel for the Middle East tensions, but took no open stand on Egypt's blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba.

AQABA — The captain of the West German freighter Stolzenfels said he steamed unimpeded through the Strait of Tiran and the Gulf of Aqaba to this Jordanian port. He contradicted the Cairo newspaper Al Ahran, which said his ship had been halted and searched by Egyptian authorities.

Crack Four Homers For Giusti's Win

CHICAGO (AP) — The last place Houston Astros walloped four home runs and went on the biggest scoring spree in the club's history Friday when they trounced the Chicago Cubs 17-4.

Ten of the runs resulted from home runs as Rusty Staub and Joe Morgan drove theirs with two on and Jim Wynn and Ron Davis connected with one on.

Benefiting from the splurge was right-hander Dave Giusti, who posted his first victory after five losses.

Houston's previous high in runs scored was 16 against the New York Mets in 1962.

The Cubs, who scored 20 runs against the Los Angeles Dodgers last Saturday, were trailing only 1-0 going into the fourth inning.

Ray Culp retired the first two batters when John Bateman singled and Giusti walked. John Upton relieved Culp and Morgan doubled home one run. Sonny Jackson singled home two more. Wynn was intentionally walked and Staub followed with his third homer.

Five more runs scored in the fifth when Morgan and Wynn hit their homers and the Astros produced five more in the sixth with Davis providing the home run punch.

Tom Brown Signs Northeast Contract

The Northeast State baseball team has obtained the services of the Twin Cities' 1967 "Athlete of the Year," pitcher Tom Brown of Neville High School. Northeast Baseball Coach Bill Dotson announced the signing of the slim athlete, who pitched Neville to the state class AAA semifinals and starred in two other sports as well.

Brown has a 10-4 record for Coach Larry Reeves' Neville team, including three victories in four starts in playoff competition. Two of his losses came in extra innings, both by one run. One of his top efforts was a 2-0 shutout of South Terrebonne in the state quarterfinals. Brown driving in both runs himself.

He made the all-district and all-Twin Cities baseball teams and also pitched for the 1966 Monroe All-Stars who won the Dixie Senior World Series.

In addition to his baseball heroics, Tom was outstanding in football and track also. He made the All-Twin Cities football team at quarterback and won the high jump in the Twin Cities Track Meet.

The son of Neville Coach and Mrs. Charles Brown, Tom will major in health and physical education at Northeast.

U.S. Gambling On Richey's Upset Win

MEXICO CITY (AP) — America's big gamble, 20-year-old Cliff Richey of San Antonio, Tex., goes against Mexico's experienced Rafael Osuna today in the opening match of the American Zone Davis Cup tennis semifinals.

A victory for the young Texan would give a big boost to U.S. hopes since the second match pits Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., the top-ranking American amateur, against Mexico's 19-year-old Marcelo Lara. Ashe is heavily favored.

"I think we can win the series," said the Mexican captain, Eduardo Guzman, predicting the host team should get at least a 1-1 break in the opening singles.

"The pressure should be greater on Osuna than on Cliff," said George MacCall, the American captain. "Rafe knows he must win this match or Mexico is sunk. We'll have no alibis."

The series is best three-out-of-five to determine the team which will meet the winner of the Argentine-Ecuador match in the American Zone final.

The Americans should be favored in Sunday's doubles, sending Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill., against an unnamed Mexican combination, which probably will be Osuna and Lara.

MacCall passed over the individual star of the 1966 U.S.-Mexico Davis Cup series, Graebner, in picking the intense, hard-hitting Richey for the singles. Last year, Graebner won both his singles matches, beating Osuna in straight sets, and shared also in the doubles victory.

The U.S. captain said he picked Richey principally because of the Texan's familiarity with the clay surface and also to have fresh men available for both singles and doubles.

MacCall was criticized last year for picking Richey over Ashe in the Inter-Zone finals against Brazil. Richey dropping both his singles assignments in a losing U.S. effort.

Ashe, on leave from the Army, is the top-ranking amateur in the country now. Dennis Ralston has turned pro. Graebner is right behind him. Richey is ranked fifth, or No. 4 excluding Ralston.

The final singles will be played Monday, with reverse pairings. Ashe and Osuna meet in the first match, Richey and Lara in the second.

Osuna, a cagy tactician and one of the most brilliant volleyers in the game, led Mexico to victory over the United States here in 1962 and he won the American national crown at Forest Hills in 1963.

However, troubled with an arm ailment, he has avoided the amateur circuit during the past several months and devoted himself largely to business affairs. He came back for this Davis Cup match and has worked hard getting in shape.

California Relays Entry List Parallels Who's Who In Track

MODESTO, Calif. (AP) — Ideal Boston and triple jumper Art Walker are only a few of the for tonight's 26th renewal of the California Relays with the big names on hand for the competition, now has trouble finding spots for all who want to compete.

Relay teams from San Jose State, Southern University, Texas A&M, the Southern California Striders and Prairie View A&M will compete for honors in the baton events.

Meet director Tom Moore, who worked hard in the early days of the Relays to attract top talent, now has trouble finding spots for all who want to compete.

A foreign contingent includes world record discus thrower Ludvik Danek of Czechoslovakia, Belgium's distance runner Gaston Roelants and Chris Papanicolaou of Greece, now a San Jose student, who cleared 17-1 in the pole vault last week.

Ideal weather conditions were forecast with temperatures in the low 80s for the afternoon and night action at the Modesto Junior College stadium which boasts one of the world's fastest tracks.

Sprinter Tommie Smith commands the most attention off his world record shattering performances. He'll try to better his 220 record of 20 seconds this week after smashing the world marks, for 440 yards and 400 meters, at 44.8 and 43.5 last Saturday.

Smith faces a sprint field expected to include Charlie Green, Jim Hines, Ed Roberts and Jerry Bright and others.

Oregon's four-mile relay team of Roscoe Dwyne, Arne Kvalheim, Wade Bell and Dave Wilborn shot at the world mark of 16:08. All except Wilborn have run the mile under four minutes, from a standing start and three get the running start in this race.

The Relays this year honor Boston, who established a world record of 27.5 at Modesto in the 1965 event, after becoming the first team to leap 27 at an earlier meet here.

In addition to the open and intercollegiate events, the California state junior college championships will be decided.

Marichal Wins No. 8

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Juan Marichal became the first major league pitcher to win eight games Friday night, stopping the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 behind the San Francisco Giants' extra base power.

The victory was Marichal's second over the Dodgers this season and also was the star right-hander's eighth straight triumph following three consecutive defeats at the start of the season.

Jim Hart and Ollie Brown walloped home runs off Josee Sutton in the second and fourth innings.

The Giants scored twice in the third inning on Bob Schiraldi's single, Willie Mays' triple and Willie McCovey's double.

Los Angeles asserted a second straight shutout at the hands of Marichal as studies by Wes Parker and Willie Davis pushed across a run in the eighth.

Don Cardwell Pitches Mets Past Braves

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Cardwell fired a three-hitter and Jerry Buchek's second-inning home run provided the only run of the game as the New York Mets blanked the Atlanta Braves 1-0 Friday night.

Cardwell set down 14 straight batters over one stretch before Hank Aaron and Joe Torre opened the seventh inning with consecutive singles.

After Rico Carty struck out, Mack Jones walked, loading the bases. Then Cardwell, 35, fanned Clete Boyer and pinch hitter Mike de la Hoz.

Cardwell struck out eight overall, five of them in the last three innings, protecting the lead provided by Buchek's sixth homer.

WVL Named Feed Station For Saints

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — All New Orleans Saints games with National and American Football League rival will originate "live" on 50,000-watt clear-channel radio station WVL in 1967, officials representing the facility, the Saints and the sponsors jointly announced today.

Simultaneously, it was reported that veteran WVL Sports Director Al Wester will be the play-by-play announcer for the Saints' schedule of six preseason and 14 regular-season games under the sponsorship of F&I Staff Brewing Corporation and the Humble Oil and Refining Company.

Spokesmen included Bill Dean, WVL sales manager; John Mecom, Jr., president, and Larry Karl, general manager of the Saints; George P. Holtmann, vice-president and director of advertising for Falstaff, and T. M. Potts, Humble region marketing manager.

The Saints' pre-season opener is with the Los Angeles Rams at Anaheim, California on Wednesday night, August 2. Regular season play starts in New Orleans, also against the Rams, on Sunday afternoon, September 17.

Wester, with 22 years of sportscasting experience on radio and television, is well known to fans in WVL's coverage area. He has announced practically every major sports event in America on the major networks, including pro football at Detroit, baseball, basketball, boxing, golf, horse and automobile racing. The "color" commentator, or play analysis expert, will be named soon.

Astros Wallop Chicago 7-4

JOE MORGAN, Houston, scuffs his toe and touches home plate to score in fourth inning as Chicago Cubs catcher Randy Hundley bobbles the ball during their National League game Friday in Chicago. Umpire John Kibler calls the play. Houston pitcher

Crack Four Homers For Giusti's Win

CHICAGO (AP) — The last place Houston Astros walloped four home runs and went on the biggest scoring spree in the club's history Friday when they trounced the Chicago Cubs 7-4.

Ten of the runs resulted from home runs as Rusty Staub and Joe Morgan drove theirs with two men on and Jim Wynn and Ron Davis connected with one on.

Benefiting from the splurge was righthander Dave Giusti, who posted his first victory after five losses.

Houston's previous high in runs scored was 16 against the New York Mets in 1962.

The Cubs, who scored 20 runs against the Los Angeles Dodgers last Saturday, were trailing only 1-0 going into the fourth inning.

Ray Culp retired the first two batters when John Bateman singles and Giusti walked. John Upham relieved Culp and Morgan doubled home one run and Sonny Jackson singled home two more. Wynn was intentionally walked and Staub followed with his third homer.

Five more runs scored in the fifth when Morgan and Wynn hit their homers and the Astros produced five more in the sixth with Davis providing the home run punch.

Tom Brown Signs Northeast Contract

The Northeast State baseball team has obtained the services of the Twin Cities' 1967 "Athlete of the Year," pitcher Tom Brown of Neville High School. Northeast Baseball Coach Bill Dotson announced the signing of the slim athlete, who pitched Neville to the state class AAA semifinals and starred in two other sports as well.

Brown had a 10-4 record for Coach Larry Reeves' Neville team, including three victories in four starts in playoff competition. Two of his losses came in extra innings, both by one run. One of his top efforts was a 2-0 shutout of South Terrebonne in the state quarterfinals, Brown driving in both runs himself.

He made the all - district and all - Twin Cities baseball teams and also pitched for the 1966 Monroe All-Stars who won the Dixie Senior World Series.

In addition to his baseball heroics, Tom was outstanding in football and track also. He made the All-Twin Cities football team at quarterback and won the high jump in the Twin Cities Track Meet.

The son of Neville Coach and Mrs. Charles Brown, Tom will major in health and physical education at Northeast.

U. S. Gambling On Richey's Upset Win

MEXICO CITY (AP) — America's big gamble, 20-year-old Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., goes against Mexico's experienced Rafael Osuna today in the opening match of the American Zone Davis Cup tennis semifinals.

A victory for the young Texan would give a big boost to U.S. hopes since the second match pits Arthur Ashe of Richmond Va., the top-ranking American amateur, against Mexico's 19-year-old Marcelo Lara. Ashe is heavily favored.

"I think we can win the series," said the Mexican captain, Eduardo Guzman, predicting the host team should get at least a 1-1 break in the opening singles.

"The pressure should be greater on Osuna than on Cliff," said George MacCall, the American captain. "Rafe knows he must win this match or Mexico is sunk. We'll have no alibis."

The series is best three-out-of-five to determine the team which will meet the winner of the Argentine-Ecuador match in the American Zone final.

The Americans should be favored in Sunday's doubles, sending Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill., against an unnamed Mexican combination, which probably will be Osuna and Lara.

The final singles will be played Monday, with reverse pairings. Ashe and Osuna meet in the first match, Richey and Lara in the second.

Osuna, a cagy tactician and one of the most brilliant volleyers in the game, led Mexico to victory over the United States here in 1962 and he won the American national crown at Forest Hills in 1963.

However, troubled with an arm ailment, he has avoided the amateur circuit during the past several months and devoted himself largely to business affairs. He came back for this Davis Cup match and has worked hard getting in shape.

MacCall passed over the individual star of the 1966 U.S. Mexico Davis Cup series, Graebner, in picking the intense, hard-hitting Richey for the singles. Last year, Graebner won both his singles matches, beating Osuna in straight sets, and shared also in the doubles victory.

The U.S. captain said he picked Richey principally because of the Texan's familiarity with the clay surface and also to have fresh men available for both singles and doubles.

MacCall was criticized last year for picking Richey over Ashe in the Inter-Zone finals against Brazil. Richey dropping both his singles assignments in a losing U.S. effort.

Ashe, on leave from the Army, is the top-ranking amateur in the country now that Dennis Ralston has turned pro. Graebner is right behind him. Richey is ranked fifth, or No. 4 excluding Ralston.

Carson Newman Takes Victory

STATESBORO, Ga. (AP) — Mike Levi pitched Carson-Newman College of Jefferson City Tenn., to a 7 - 0 victory over Georgia Southern College Friday in the second round of the NAIA's Region VII baseball tournament.

Georgia Southern played Kivington State of Alabama in an afternoon contest of the double-elimination tournament and the survivor of that game will face Carson - Newman in a third game.

Levi, who has a 14-2 season record, scattered six hits and struck out five Georgia Southern batters while receiving some lusty hitting support from his own teammates.

California Relays Entry List Parallels Who's Who In Track

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—Ideal weather conditions are predicted for tonight's 26th renewal of the California Relays with an entry list resembling a Who's Who in American track and field.

Sprinter Tommie Smith, pole vaulter Bob Seagren, distance runner Tracy Smith, shot putter Neal Steinhauer, high jumper Clarence Johnson, hurdler Willie Davenport, long jumper Ralph Boston and triple jumper Art Walker are only a few of the big names on hand for the competition.

Relay teams from San Jose State, Southern University, Texas Southern, Rice, Arkansas A&M, the Southern California Striders and Prairie View A&M vie for honors in the baton events.

Meet director Tom Moore, who worked hard in the early days of the Relays to attract top talent, now has trouble finding spots for all who want to compete.

U. S. Tells Saigon Of Fear For Stability If Military Leaders Vie For President

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has quietly expressed concern to the Saigon government that presidential rivalry between South Viet-nam's top military leaders could create instability in that government at a critical time. U.S. officials making this known Friday said there is disappointment here that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and the chief of state, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, now appear determined to oppose each other in the presidential election scheduled for September. This is viewed as disquieting here even though both men have given assurances that their campaigning will be kept under control to avoid political disruption. In the past Ky had said he would run for president but would defer to Thieu's wishes.

But Thieu said no, it would be well to have as many candidates as possible. The chief danger, according to American authorities, is that the rival military candidates will be maneuvering for votes within the Vietnamese Armed Forces Council, among the four highly influential corps commanders and among the provincial chiefs. These are the men who have the power to influence strongly the peasant electorate.

The World for WOMEN

MONROE MORNING WORLD, Saturday, May 27, 1967

WEST MONROE HIGH SCHOOL graduating seniors, Blanche and Allen Hall, were entertained by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton C. Hall, on Wednesday evening. Visiting together dur-

Postnuptial Fete Honors Couple

Rose Room of Bayou DeSiard Country Club was scene of a luncheon hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Clifton Flinn in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joseph Carter who were married on May 6, in Natchez, Miss.

The bride, the former Miss Priscilla Floyd, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Haik of Bentrap were invited to share the postnuptial event.

The hostess was wearing a navy blue knit dress accented with a paisley scarf. The bride wore a black and striped voile accented by a deep pink orchid corsage, a hostess gift.

CUSTOM FAUCETS

Custom faucets? They're here — in 24-carat goldplate, brushed chrome and pewter finish. Hand-carved, the sculptured hardware for the bathroom also includes door knobs, drawer pulls. The manufacturer says they were designed to fill a long-felt need in custom-built contemporary homes.

After the wedding rehearsal of Miss Kathryn Louise Bird and Thomas Richard Hyland last evening at St. Paul's Methodist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hyland, the groom-elect's parents, entertained at a dinner.

Bayou DeSiard Country Club was setting for the courtesy. Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Heard Jr. greeted guests in the foyer, which was decorated with an antique footed container of pink flowers.

White covered U-shaped tables were overlaid with pink satin runners and flowers in varying shades of pink. A large crystal hurricane globe of roses, chrysanthemums and daisies interspersed with greenery centered the bride's table. Flanking this decor were six globes encircling green candle holders of glowing pink tapers and the same flowers. Brass candelabra holding pink tapers on pedestal stands formed a setting behind the main table.

A tall brass compote, on a low coffee table, held a mass arrangement of pink roses. Green topiary trees aglow with pink candles in miniature hurricane globes were used at vantage places.

Miss Bird was wearing a white lace model designed with embossed flowers over deep beige taffeta. Her mother, Mrs. Charles H. Bird, wore a rose linen A-line dress.

Those dining with the honor couple were Mr. and Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Lillian LaRue, Mr. and Mrs. James Westmoreland, Billy Westmoreland, Mrs. Richard Portis, the Rev. and Mrs. Roy Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Caskey, Mr. and Mrs. Willis C. Hopkins, Mrs. Edwina Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Heard, Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Doege, Mrs. Bernard Cerniglia, Miss Linda Bird, Mickey Prestidge, Miss Lucille Morton, Lt. Henry H. Hinkle, Miss Mary Alice Yeldell, Dewitt Beckett, Miss Amanda Cobb, Neil Morgan, Miss Pam Baker, Eddie Wilson, Miss Pam Burgess, John Rea, Miss Lynn Haddad, Carl Stevenson Jr., Miss Sandra Brown, Gary Cooper and the hosts.

BRIDESMAIDS LUNCHEON

At noon yesterday, Mrs. James J. Cuthbert Jr. of Rayville entertained the bride-elect and her attendants at a luncheon at Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

A green cloth covered the luncheon table which featured yellow daisies as the focal decoration. A yellow satin streamer accented by miniature bouquets of daisies extended the table's length.

From her trousseau the honoree chose a long sleeve tent dress in a light orange print accented by white daisies.

Guests gathering for the affair were Miss Pamela Burgess, Miss Sandra Brown, Miss Lucille Morton, Miss Mary Alice Yeldell, Miss Linda Bird, Mrs. Richard Portis, Mrs. Bernard Cerniglia, Mrs. C. W. Westmoreland, Mrs. Lillian LaRue, and mothers of the bridal couple.

Tompkins, Miss Nancy Bradley, Mrs. Bill Reitzammer, and Mrs. Mike Bishop. The honoree's mother, Mrs. L. H. Wallace was hostess for the event.

Ann Wallace, WM Graduate Entertained

Mrs. L. H. Wallace honored her daughter, Miss Ann Wallace, with an informal party in her West Monroe home on Wednesday afternoon, from 3 until 5 p.m. The honoree's graduation from West Monroe High School was the inspiration for the event, with several of her classmates as guests for the event.

A cake, topped by a miniature girl graduate encircled by pink roses and a diploma, was inscribed with congratulations to the seniors.

Miss Wallace was wearing a red, white and blue sports outfit, and she assisted Mrs. Mike Bishop, Mrs. Bill Reitzammer and her mother in serving her friends.

Other guests were Miss Brenda Reeves, Miss Nancy Bradley, Miss Kathy Nelson, Miss Roslyn Golson, Miss Judy Stell, Miss Lynda Tompkins, Miss Patty McEmore, Miss Noel Johnson, Miss Penny Stone, Miss Dianne Futch, Miss Dianne Bennett, Miss Glenda McCormick, Miss Judy Gates, Miss Margie Adams, Miss Linda Coates, Miss Betty Heard, Miss Ashley Stovall and Miss Ann Wallace.

Homer Is Winner In Cleanest City

HOMER (Special) — The Fourth District winner of the cleanest city contest for cities under 10,000 was won by Homer, Mrs. H. J. Chadoir, state chairman of the contest announced this week. Homer will again be judged in the state competition in early June, Mrs. R. P. Antoon, local contest chairman for the Homer flower and garden club pointed out.

Mayor Roy E. Lowe said that winning the title of the "cleanest city in the Fourth District" means an accomplishment in which all Homer citizens can take pride, for it was with their cooperation that this title was made possible.

Homer won second last year, which gave the town favorable publicity.

Mrs. Antoon is now making

Rites Set For Victim Of Accident

WINNSBORO (Special) — Funeral services for Preston Orville Dollar Sr., 44, of Haven, Kan., and a former resident of Baskin, will be at 2 p.m. today in the Church of Christ in Archibald.

Burial will be in Coax Cemetery near here with Masonic graveside services under the direction of First National Funeral Home of Winnsboro.

Mr. Dollar died in an automobile accident Wednesday near Kingman, Kan.

Mr. Dollar was a member of the Ingleside Lodge 1361, Ingleside, Tex., and a member of the Shriners Morocco Temple of Jacksonville, Fla. He was an employee of Dresser Engineering Co. of Tulsa, Okla.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Bertie M. Dollar, one son, Preston Dollar Jr., both of Haven; three daughters, Miss Kathy Renee Dollar of Haven, Mrs. Barbara Ann Simmons of Auburn, Ala., and Mrs. Joyce L. Cunniff of St. Louis, Mo.; his mother, Mrs. J. R. Dollar of Baskin; two brothers, John A. Dollar of Ferriday, and Harvey C. Dollar of St. Louis, Mo.; four sisters, Mrs. Lennel Lawrence of Baskin, Mrs. Lorrell Fox of Lake Charles, Mrs. Mavis Phillips, of Baskin, and Mrs. X. L. Loftin of Ruston; and two grandchildren.

Boy's Body Is Found In Ouachita

The body of 13-year-old Spence Jenkins was found early Friday at Buckhorn Bend in the Ouachita River by W. Rowland Dupree, commercial fisherman. The boy apparently fell into the rain-swollen river Monday while he and a companion were fishing at a spot that is parallel with the intersection of Lazzaro and S. 8th Streets. Buckhorn Bend is about six miles south of the spot.

The youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins of 308 Phillips St., in West Monroe.

Ouachita parish sheriff's deputies said that the youth was sitting on a sewage pipe that extends some 15 yards over the water, while the other boy, Tommy Wyatt, 11, stood on the pipe's end fishing.

Deputies said that when Tommy said he was ready to leave, the Jenkins boy tried to turn around on the pipe and slipped and he went under. The Wyatt boy said. He said he dropped his fishing pole when the youth fell and could only reach for the boy with his arms.

Clubhouse On Ouachita Is Planned

The Vicksburg District, Corps of Engineers, is currently considering the application of Jack B. Beasley, 2626 N. 10th St., West Monroe, for permit to construct a clubhouse building on the right bank of the Ouachita River in West Monroe.

The point is near the south boundary of Highland Park Country Club.

The building will be a frame type structure, supported by wood piling located on the first and second top banks of the river. The landward end of the structure will be approximately 60 feet riverward from the centerline of the controlling levee.

The floor of the building will be at an elevation above the maximum highwater of record. Interested persons may communicate with the Corps of Engineers at P. O. Box 60, Vicksburg, Miss., expressing any objections to the work with respect to its effect on river navigation.

Could you please tell me if I can obtain a permit to carry a concealed pistol in my car? If so, where would I get a permit? Also is it unlawful to carry a gun openly without a permit?

State and city ordinances vary on this subject. The state statutes provide that a pistol can be carried in an automobile, but not on the person. Ordinances in most cities prohibit carrying of pistols, or other weapons, in automobiles. There is no permit to carry a concealed weapon, except for sworn peace officers.

If a voter's name is removed from the voting list because two persons swear to false testimony, who is responsible by law, the persons swearing to the statements against him or the registrar of voters?

We must assume that the two persons making the statement to remove the third party are qualified registered voters of the same parish. In the case two persons do swear to the statements, the registrar by law must remove the third party, but must notify him, or her, of the action. The registrar has no choice but to remove the person, assuming that the sworn testimony is true. Responsibility lies with the persons making the statements.

Where should I write for a photostatic copy of my birth certificate? I was born in St. Mary Parish.

All persons native to Louisiana can obtain the certified copies of their birth certificates from the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State of Louisiana, P. O. Box 60620, New Orleans, La.

Can you tell me the different type tests that are given at the Ouachita Valley Vocational-Technical School on Saturdays and if one has to have an appointment?

Civil service tests in all classifications are given at the school on Saturdays. An applicant is required to make an application to Baton Rouge and is then given an appointment to take the test. For further information concerning an appointment for tests, one should contact the state civil service office.

LSU Confers Degrees To 1,300 Today

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Louisiana State University will confer degrees upon more than 1,300 graduates at commencement exercises set for 3 p.m. today in the Parker Agricultural Center.

LSU President John A. Hunter will award diplomas. Among the graduates will be 11 students receiving the Doctor of Philosophy degree, and four receiving the Doctor of Education degree.

The graduating class will also include some 350 undergraduates, 182 candidates for master's degrees, 47 law degrees, and 55 graduates in social welfare.

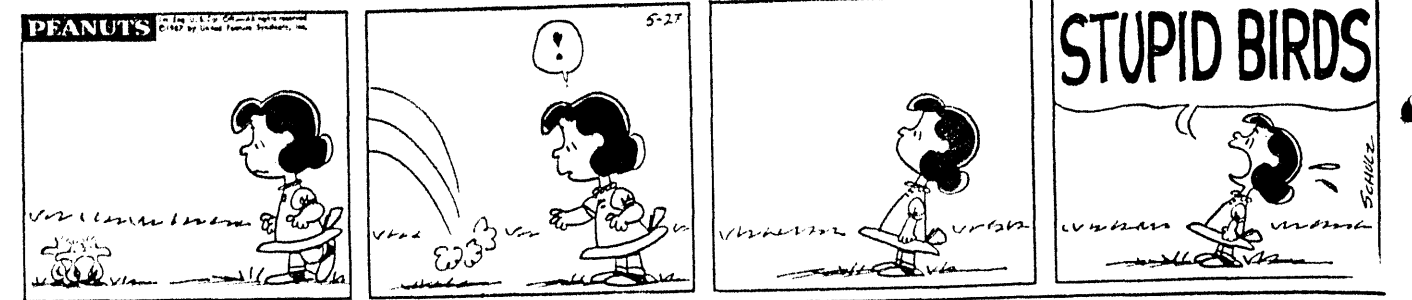

Commencement speaker will be Dr. Otis Singletary, vice-president of the American Council on Education, Washington, D.C. Chancellor Cecil G. Taylor of the main campus will preside over the program.

Baccalaureate services for the graduates will be held in the Agricultural Center at 10 a.m. today, with Dr. John F. Nau, head of the philosophy department at the University of Southern Mississippi, as speaker.

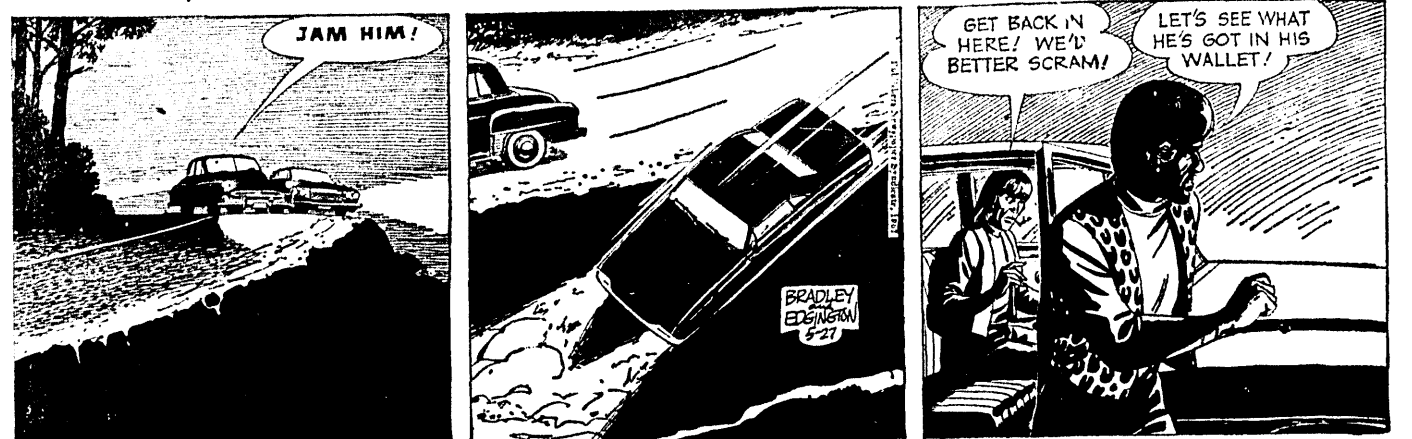

Chancellor Taylor will be host between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. at an informal reception in the LSU Union's Cotton Ballroom to honor graduates, their families and friends. Faculty members are also invited to attend.

In 1864, an act of Congress creating Montana territory was approved.

To whom would people write to complain about Central Standard Time in this state?

It is presumed that the questioner is dissatisfied with Daylight Savings Time, started May 1 in lieu of the customary Central Standard Time. This change was made in keeping with a federal law installing Daylight Savings Time in all states which, by their own laws, did not prohibit it. The Louisiana Legislature considered such a law, but did not pass it. Therefore, complaints should be directed to both your federal and state representatives. It may be presumed too late to have effect this year, though sufficient complaints could weigh in the future.

Could you please explain the phrase "Keep Local Control" being used to promote the Fifth District sales tax?

Officials explain that the significance of the term is the keeping of local control over money which the tax would produce. They say that had the state levied a similar tax the amount above that needed to raise teacher pay would have been returned to the state general fund, giving control over its expenditure to the Legislature. The bill authorizing the district-wide tax leaves the determination of how the money will be spent in the hands of school boards, parishes and municipalities.

Dr. Peter J. Steincrohn

If you recall a recent column in which I reprinted a letter from a reader who believed in euthanasia, I think you will be interested in the following letter from one who believes every patient should be given every chance.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Back in 1938 my husband had pneumonia. He was down to 78 pounds on his ninth day in an oxygen tent (estimated weight). Altogether he was in the hospital 5½ weeks.

For three weeks he had special nurses around the clock. One of them stayed with him the entire time so that he was never alone. I went to see him three times every 24 hours.

One evening at eleven my husband was extremely low and the doctor on the hospital staff shrugged his shoulders and said he could do no more. He said my husband was dying. He didn't even make the pretense of giving an injection to keep the man alive. Such callousness is inexcusable. I hate the memory of that intern and fortunately for him and myself, we have lost track of each other. If I knew where he had been, I would have haunted him all these years.

He wasn't fit to be a doctor (and I say this as a mild-mannered person). I asked this intern if he minded if I called our own family doctor about my husband. He said, "No, but it won't do you any good. Besides, you'll be waking up your doctor."

CALLED OWN DOCTOR

Anyway, I rushed to a telephone and called our doctor who was asleep but came within 15 minutes. Only a bit later the resident came by on his night off to see how my husband was doing because he was so seriously ill. Between them they did something and my husband is still alive.

I know that pneumonia isn't considered a terminal illness like cancer usually is. But even so, when my husband's father had cancer and needed special nurses around the clock I went down every few days to our safe deposit box and got out our bonds which it had taken us so long to save for.

We willfully cashed them in to make life more comfortable for him at the end. Actually, as I think about it, I have no regrets whatsoever that the savings were used to ease such a fine gentleman into an easier death.

As for my husband, he is an outstanding example of when not to give up. He has done wonderful work since that illness.

If three persons had been apathetic (two doctors and myself), he would not have been here. Euthanasia? I don't believe in it. Life is too precious to give up whether there seems to be little chance of survival or no chance at all. — Mrs. C. —

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I live on a limited income. You doctors advise a balanced diet, which I can't afford. Why can't you eliminate food and take vita-

Search Set For Oil, Gas In Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approval of the first project involving core drilling by a private company on the submerged Atlantic continental shelf as a first step toward a possible intensive search for oil and gas was announced Friday by the Interior Department.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. will conduct the drilling on the continental shelf beyond the continental shelf off Florida and northward to points seaward of Cape Cod and George Bank, under a program approved by the Geological Survey.

The basic aim is to gain further insight into the geology of the Atlantic shelf and slope areas.

Such knowledge is a prerequisite to outlining potential targets for oil and gas search," the survey said.

Robert E. Speer, the Survey's oil and gas supervisor for the eastern region, said about 21 core holes will be drilled under water ranging in depth from 650 to 5,000 feet. He said the depth of sediment penetration in each test will be limited to a maximum of 1,000 feet.

The drilling operation, which, hopefully, will recover Atlantic continental shelf sediments from beneath first step toward a possible intensive search for oil and gas was announced Friday by the Interior Department.

In 1942, a 20-year treaty of alliance was signed by Britain and the Soviet Union.

If three persons had been apathetic (two doctors and myself), he would not have been here. Euthanasia? I don't believe in it. Life is too precious to give up whether there seems to be little chance of survival or no chance at all. — Mrs. C. Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I live on a limited income. You doctors advise a balanced diet, which I can't afford. Why can't one eliminate food and take vitamin and mineral tablets instead?

Would not this be just as effective and much less expensive? I'd like to try this for a few months. I am 68. Can you advise me? — Mr. B.

Comment: I'm glad you asked. Unfortunately I know of no short cuts to eating food itself. Some day we may have a pill which will take the place of a steak, but I doubt it.

As of now, it will be cheaper and healthier for you to have some doctor's dietician or hospital dietician outline a suitable diet for one in your circumstances. I assure you it will be better for you — and much cheaper, too — than filling up on expensive vitamins.

Dr. Steincrohn is sorry he cannot answer personal mail, but all questions are answered in this column.

GOT A LOOK AT THEMSELVES
IXOPO, Natal Province, South Africa (AP) — Birds who didn't like the look of themselves shattered hundreds of window panes in the small village of Hlokozi, near here.

Residents investigating the cause of all the broken windows found ground hornbills were responsible — they were pecking savagely at their own reflections in the glass.

There was widespread relief when the hornbills abandoned the town and moved back to their more normal habitat in the bush.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 5-27

Search Set For Oil, Gas In Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approval of the first project involving core drilling by a private company on the submerged Atlantic continental slope as a first step toward a possibly intensive search for oil and gas was announced Friday by the Interior Department.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. will conduct the drilling on the continental shelf beyond the continental shelf off Florida and northward to points seaward of Cape Cod and George Bank, under a program approved by the Geological Survey.

The basic aim is to gain further insight into the geology of the Atlantic shelf and slope areas.

"Such knowledge is a prerequisite to outlining potential targets for oil and gas search," the survey said.

Robert E. Speer, the Survey's oil and gas supervisor for the eastern region, said about 21 core holes will be drilled under water ranging in depth from 650 to 5,000 feet. He said the depth of sediment penetration in each test will be limited to a maximum of 1,000 feet.

"The drilling operation, which, hopefully, will recover sediment cores from beneath sea floor thick enough to provide a useful stratigraphic 'profile' will begin about July 1, and will probably last through the summer months," Speer said.

In 1942, a 20-year-treaty of alliance was signed by Britain and the Soviet Union.

McLemore To Receive Doctorate

John A. McLemore, assistant professor of English at Northeast Louisiana State College, will receive his Ph.D. degree June 4 from the University of Mississippi.

Dr. William R. Hammond, dean of the School of Liberal Arts at NLS, made the announcement.

Dr. McLemore's dissertation topic is "Let No Fourth Actor Speak: A Study of the Medial Function of the Third Person Pronoun in Chaucer's 'The Canterbury Tales'."

McLemore joined the NLS faculty in the fall of 1965 from Memphis State University. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Memphis State.

Earlier this year, he was named administrator for NLS's College Program for High School Seniors. Under this program, high school students who have completed their junior year with a "B" or better average may, upon recommendation of their high school principal, earn college credits at NLS during the summer.

McLemore is a member of the South Central Modern Language Association, the National Association of Teachers of English, the Louisiana Teachers' Association, the Renaissance Association and the Modern Language Association.

figures for the northbound train were only slightly better.

He blamed the lag in train passenger travel on a heavy increase in air, bus and car travel in the train's service area.

If the two trains are discontinued, it would probably be mid-November before they quit running, Spencer said.

Monroe Mayor W. L. Howard said Friday he and a number of other area mayors had received notification from the railroad of the request and its intention to discontinue service.

Schedule At Northeast Announced

Beginning Monday, Northeast Louisiana State College will operate on its annual summer work schedule of from 7 a.m. until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, announced James M. Nicholson, dean of administration.

On Thursday, June 1, only the work schedule will be from 7 a.m. until 4 p.m. in order that registration for the summer session can be handled properly.

The work schedule during the regular fall and spring semesters has been from 7 a.m. until noon and from 1:20 p.m. until 4:20 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 7:50 a.m. until noon on Saturday. The lunch period will continue to be from noon until 1 p.m. during the summer.

The college telephone switchboard will operate only during regular working hours during the time between the end of the summer session and the beginning of the regular session, beginning regular telephone service at 6:20 a.m. Wednesday, May 31.

Bookmobile Slate Here Announced

The new Ouachita Parish Public Library bookmobile schedule for the summer has been announced by Miss Frances Flanders, parish librarian.

Miss Flanders said that the bookmobile unit would not operate on Wednesdays, but would operate on Saturdays. Repairs could not be made on Saturdays, she said.

The librarian said that a librarian with at least 18 hours of library science, a clerk driver and a clerical assistant will travel with the bookmobile unit to aid patrons in making their selections.

Persons wanting the services of the bookmobile, but now live where they are not presently being offered, should contact the main library. This will be worked in "wherever and as soon as possible," Miss Flanders said.

The schedule will be:
Mondays, May 29, June 12 and 26, July 10 and 24, Aug. 7 and 21, and Sept. 11 and 25, Sterlington, Perryville and Fairbanks.
Tuesdays, May 29, June 13 and 27, July 18, Aug. 1, 15 and 29, and Sept. 12 and 26, Sterlington Highway, St. Joseph Home, Town and Country and North Monroe.

Thursdays, June 1, 15 and 29, July 13 and 27, Aug. 10 and 24, and Sept. 7 and 21, Swartz Lake, Lakeview and Bayou Shores.
Fridays, June 2, 16 and 30, July 14 and 28, Aug. 11 and 25, and Sept. 8 and 22, Chemere, Oklaheba and Benton Frost subdivisions.

Saturdays, June 3, and 17, July 1, 15 and 29, Aug. 12 and 26, and Sept. 9 and 23, Highway 80 and Claiborne Subdivision.

Mondays, June 5 and 19, July 3, 17 and 31, Aug. 14 and 28, and Sept. 18, White's Ferry Road and Kiroh Subdivision.

Tuesdays, June 6 and 20, July 11 and 25, Aug. 8 and 22, and Sept. 5 and 19, Wards 3 and 4.
Thursdays, June 8 and 22, July 6 and 20, Aug. 13, 17 and 31, and Sept. 14 and 28, Calhoun and Drew Community.

Fridays, June 9 and 23, July 7 and 21, Aug. 14 and 28, Sept. 1, 15 and 29, Woodlawn and Ward 9.

Saturdays, June 10 and 24, July 8 and 22, Aug. 5 and 19, Sept. 2.

U. S. Agent Okays Safety Modification

WASHINGTON (AP) — Highway Administrator Lowell K. Bridwell agreed Friday to modify a controversial federal auto safety standard designed to protect occupants of a car who might strike the interior following a crash.

The automobile industry has contended it is unable to meet the standard—No. 201—by the Jan. 1, 1968 deadline.

Bridwell proposed an early meeting with technical representatives of the manufacturers and the National Traffic Safety Bureau to work out the modifications.

He said it was apparent from the facts developed during a hearing this week on industry objections that some modifications in the standard are needed.

The standard would fix guidelines to minimize injury to passengers who might strike such interior components as the backs of seats, knobs, switches and other protrusions.

The industry has already filed suit in the U.S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati to block the standard.

Bridwell said work could begin June 8 on modifications which both the industry and the traffic safety agency agree are needed.

Bridwell said it is still the intention of the agency to issue a 2, 16 and 30, Leuwill, Bawcomville, and West Heights Subdivision.

Rail Hearing Set Here By Agency

The Interstate Commerce Commission will hold a hearing in Monroe on the request of the Missouri-Pacific Railroad for discontinuance of its passenger service through the area.

A definite date for the formal hearing has not been set but in Alexandria a railroad spokesman told a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Friday that scarcity of passengers and an operating loss of $125,000 in 1966 is behind the request.

E. Earl Spencer of St. Louis, Mo., passenger traffic manager for the rail line, said the railroad is seeking to halt services provided by two trains, one northbound and one southbound, running between Alexandria and Little Rock, Ark.

He said that local passenger traffic between Alexandria and Monroe on the two trains is practically nonexistent. At the Georgetown Station in Grant Parish only about one passenger every two months used either train, Spencer said.

Spencer said that in 1966 only 28.5 passengers a day (compared to 34 a day in 1964) rode southbound train No. 31. The

Egyptian General Waits For Fighting To Begin

GAZA STRIP (AP) — The Egyptian-Israeli frontier was quiet Friday and one of the most relaxed men on it was an Egyptian general trained at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Maj. Gen. Saad el Sha'li, 45, commanding the strongly fortified El Arish sector, described his situation as "all right."

"We have completed all our defensive plans," he said. "The next move is up to the politicians."

"We are ready to take offensive at any time to repel any aggression."

"We can repel any surprise attack," Shazli said.

The helmeted Egyptian troops dug in behind sandbags and in cinder block fences. Heavy gun positions looked across no-man's-land to the Israeli lines a few miles away. Egyptian troops appeared to be dug in for a long time to come.

Columns of Soviet-built tanks spread along the roads to the El Arish sector to take the newly fortified positions. Egyptian troops clad in camouflage uniforms patrolled all the roads. Russian MIG19 planes were concealed in revetments at El Arish and their pilots were at the ready.

In Gaza, troops of the Palestine Liberation Army—PLA—the military arm of the Palestine Liberation Organization, manned positions 1½ miles from the Israeli frontier.

Carrying new rifles supplied by Red China and Russia, the PLA troops dug themselves deep in holes at the side of the main highway running through Gaza to the sea.

Public morale in Gaza appeared high.

U.N. troops, who only last week patrolled the frontier across which Egyptian and Israeli troops now confront each other, sun-bathed on Mediterranean beaches near encampments where they are quartered.

Asked about the El Arish situation, Shazli said: "The enemy is keeping an eye on us and we are keeping an eye on them."

Sipping a soft drink, the youthful-looking general declared that he believes war with Israel will be inevitable if "she is incited by the U.S."

"I was shocked when I heard that President Johnson opposed our rights to shut the Aqaba Gulf to Israeli shipping," Shazli said.

Asked what he thought might happen if the United States attempts to force a passage through the Strait of Tiran to Aqaba, Shazli said: "That would be a tragedy and we would certainly try to teach them a lesson."

Egypt has installed coastal guns at Sharm el Sheikh overlooking the Strait of Tiran and President Gamal Abdel Nasser has said the guns will fire on any Israeli ship trying to run through.

Shazli was a paratroop officer in Sinai in the 1956 Israeli and British-French invasions of Egypt.

"The situation today is much different," he said. "We had so few troops then, but now we can repel any surprise attack and we are also capable of making strong counterattacks." Egypt has some 80,000 troops in Sinai facing Israel.

In Gaza, farmers threshed grain as usual in the shadow of PLA gun emplacements within sight of the Israeli frontier, and life went on much as usual.

The Gaza Strip is administered by Egypt under the 1949 armistice terms that stopped the fighting in the Arab-Israeli war of 1948-49. The strip had been awarded to the proposed Palestinian Arab state in the 1947 U.N. plan partitioning the Holy Land into separate Jewish and Arab states. After the Mideast 1956 conflict, the strip was the main base of the United Nations Emergency Force posted between Egyptian and Israeli forces but now withdrawn on demand of Egypt's President Nasser. Technically, the Gaza Strip is not a part of Egypt but remains under Egyptian rule until a peace settlement may be made to end formally the Arab-Israeli wars of the 1940s.

Program Slated At Local Church

The second in a series of special programs for wives of servicemen in Vietnam will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church of Monroe, Jackson at Wood.

The event is sponsored by the Commission on Social Concerns in cooperation with the Adult Couples' Class of the church, for the purpose of giving the wives an opportunity to get together and share in their interests while their husbands are overseas. Miss Elizabeth Langford is chairman of the Commission on Social Concerns. Mrs. W. J. Veazey, executive secretary of the Ouachita Parish Red Cross Chapter is assisting with the program.

Miss Langford said the program will open with a "game night" period. Refreshments will be served following this. A nursery will be open for small children. She added that "Any wives whose husbands recently have been sent to Vietnam, are cordially invited to join the group."

The Rev. George W. Harbuck is pastor of the church.

Stanford Rites Planned Today

CAR WARNING

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — An estimated 15 million Americans are driving autos with defective fan belts or radiator hoses, or both, according to an estimate by a rubber industry.

Motorists could avoid possible roadside delays and costly engine repairs by replacing belts and hoses every two years, says The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company.

Female In Engineering Graduates

RUSTON (Special) —Among the candidates for degrees at Louisiana Tech Monday morning will be a girl graduating in the traditional men's field of engineering.

She is Barbara Jane Boddie, formerly of Shreveport and now of San Antonio, who will receive the bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering.

Not only is Miss Boddie distinguished by entering a unique profession for women but she ranks No. 1 scholastically among the 56 students of the engineering school who will get their bachelors' diplomas Monday. She has a grade point average of 3.73 out of 4.00, not including the spring semester's percentage.

Miss Boddie has been employed by the Hughes Aircraft Co. in Los Angeles, where she will work full time this summer. The Hughes company has provided her a fellowship for master's study at the University of California at Los Angeles for a two-year period starting this fall. If time permits, she plans to learn to fly, she said.

She is the daughter of Major and Mrs. Robert Boddie of 519 Lanark Dr. in San Antonio. Her

Talk On Heart To Be Given

Dr. Beryl C. Franklin, associate professor of biology at Northeast Louisiana State College, has been invited to speak to the Winnboro Lions Club at the Tuesday noon meeting.

The group will meet at Owens Motel. Franklin will discuss the heart, how it works and various problems of heart function.

Father is a retired Air Force officer. Miss Boddie was graduated from the Jonesboro - Hodge High School in 1963.

Ragland To Retire As Service Officer

The Louisiana Department of Veterans Affairs has announced the retirement of Fred E. Ragland, Ouachita Parish Veterans Service Officer, effective Wednesday, May 31.

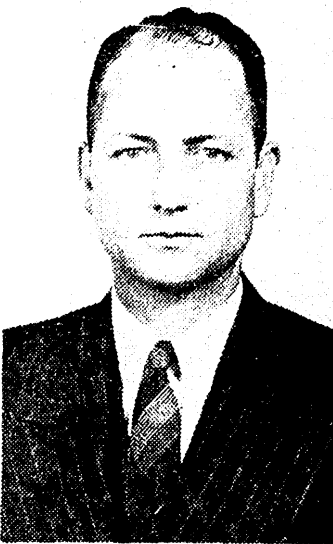

Ragland, 56, has held the post since 1964, and was assistant veterans service officer from 1952 until his appointment to the head position upon retirement of H. B. McClellan.

Recent ill health was given as a contributing factor in the early retirement of Ragland. The vacancy created by his retirement is expected to be filled during the next month, according to the department.

Ragland is a veteran of World War II, retiring as a lieutenant after 18 years of service in the U.S. Navy. He was stationed aboard the U.S.S. Maryland at Pearl Harbor when it was bombed during World War II.

He was a past president of the Louisiana Department of Veterans Service Officers Association, and served on the Executive Committee as a representative of the Fifth District of Veterans Officers Association.

Ragland is a member of the Burnet-Down American Legion Post 201 in West Monroe, a member of the VFW, 40 & 8, and Amvets. He also served as counselor for the U.S. Navy recruiting office for new Navy enlistees, and received a certificate of appreciation for this service.

He is married and the father of two boys, Bibb, who is a student at West Monroe High School, and Fred, who is serving in the U.S. Navy, at Schenectady, N.Y.

Proceedings Of Court Announced

In relatively light action in Monroe City Court Friday Judge W. L. Crowe fined Bessie Coleman 802 Ouachita $250 after she was found guilty of selling liquor without a license, selling liquor at her residence and selling liquor after hours.

Female In Engineering Graduates

RUSTON (Special) —Among the candidates for degrees at Louisiana Tech Monday morning will be a girl graduating in the traditional men's field of engineering.

She is Barbara Jane Boddie, formerly of Shreveport and now of San Antonio, who will receive the bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering.

Not only is Miss Boddie distinguished by entering a unique profession for women but she ranks No. 1 scholastically among the 56 students of the engineering school who will get their bachelors' diplomas Monday. She has a grade point average of 3.73 out of 4.00, not including the spring semester's percentage.

Miss Boddie has been employed by the Hughes Aircraft Co. in Los Angeles, where she will work full time this summer. The Hughes company has provided her a fellowship for master's study at the University of California at Los Angeles for a two-year period starting this fall. If time permits, she plans to learn to fly, she said.

She is the daughter of Major and Mrs. Robert Boddie of 519 Lanark Dr. in San Antonio. Her
